WILLIS DECLARES FOR COURT

Ohio Senator Solidly With President in Campaign

SCORES GARY LABOR IDEA

Against Lowering of Bars—Solon Lima Visitor

Senator Frank B. Willis, enroute to Cincinnati stopped in Lima Friday long enough to declare himself unreservedly in favor of President Harding's world court plan and to take a shot at Judge E. H. Gary on the immigration question.

Willis spoke at Venedocia Thursday night and will address a meeting in Cincinnati Friday evening. While in Lima he met a few friends at the office of Eugene Lipplcott, county prosecutor.

Willis declared in a statement issued Friday his belief that the nation would support Harding's world court plan "almost universally." The statement points out that the world court is not an abandonment of the president's opposition to the league of nations.

"I am unalterably opposed to the entrance of the United States into the league," Willis said, "but I cordially support the world court."

FULL STATEMENT:
As soon as the people get time to analyze the President's plan it will in my judgment, receive almost universal support. It will be found that it is not an abandonment of the President's well-known opposition to the entrance of our government into the League of Nations.

It is certain that so long as Warren G. Harding is president, this nation will not be a party to the League of Nations. I may add, incidentally, that it is my hope and confident belief that President Harding will continue in his office for about six years yet.

There is a difference between a super-government, such as the League of Nations purports to be, with a legislative body making new laws which the members of the league are bound to obey and enforce, and a court, the function of which is to be the application of existing international laws.

I am unalterably opposed to the entrance of our government into the League of Nations, because it would be such an abatement of our sovereignty and such an alliance with foreign powers as would be one of harmony with American tradition and the best interest of our country.

"AMERICAN IDEA"
However the world court proposition is an American idea after all. It was advocated by great Americans long before the League of Nations was heard of. There was no partisan difference of opinion concerning it. Everybody supported it. If the League of Nations had not been founded no voice would have been raised against the world court.

If the world court was a good thing, the mere fact that the League of Nations supports it, does not make it a bad thing. The reservations proposed by the President protect American rights, preserve American sovereignty and prevent any alliance such as would follow entrance into the League of Nations. It however cannot afford to withdraw its support of a world court just because some organization, of which we do not approve, has consented to adopt it.

In the planning and successful carrying forward of the world disarmament conference, and now in his suggestion of a world court, President Harding has taken every step that can be safely taken at the present time by the government in favor of international peace and good understanding.

I shall cordially support the president and I am just as much opposed to the entrance into the League of Nations of our government as I believe the world court probably will be ratified by the senate by a substantial majority that will meet with the approval of a great majority of American people.

HARDING CERTAIN TO RUN

"There will be no serious opposition to Harding in the Republican convention," Willis said. "Two factors make his nomination almost certain. In the first place, he has made a good record; in the second place, repudiation of Harding by refusing him the nomination would make the nomination worthless to anyone else."

Willis believes that Senator Underwood of Alabama, Cox and McAdoo will be outstanding candidates for the Democratic nomination. "I would like to see the democratic candidate make an out-and-out issue of the League of Nations," Willis declared. "There are still some people in the United States who think the country wants to enter."

Senator Underwood is the most "formidable" possibility of the Democrats, Willis said.

Willis is not as solidly with the president on the immigration question. The Ohio senator is a member of the senate immigration committee.

"There is no possibility of letting down the gates in the next congress," Willis declared. "Any such bill would be killed in committee by (Continued On Page Twenty-Seven)"

HE SETS RECORD AND WINS WIFE

BARNEY ALLEN AND OLIVE CARR, SNAPPED IN THE COURSE OF THEIR MARATHON DANCE.

DETROIT, Mich. (Special)—When Barney Allen, former sailor and pugilist, won the Detroit dance marathon with a record of 96 1-2 hours' continuous dancing, he won a bride as well.

Miss Olive Carr, "Just a friend," was Barney's first partner. She danced with him 43 1-2 hours. As they neared the end of the 35th hour, Barney popped the question, "You bet!" said Miss Carr, as she did a fancy glide.

Allen kept on dancing until he collapsed on the floor and was put to bed by physicians.

AKRON MAN SLAIN BY DETECTIVES

Running Gun Battle Follows Attempt at Arrest

AKRON—(United Press)—Akron detectives shot and killed Ernest H. Myers, Akron, in a running gun fight here today, following receipt of word from Shaker Heights that their victim was wanted on a burglary charge.

Police Lieutenant George Duttermore of Shaker Heights fired three shots at the alleged burglar as he fled from the residence of W. C. Malachy, Shaker Heights, Thursday night. Myers was traced through the license number on an automobile which he abandoned at Shaker Heights.

Akron police were notified and detectives went to his home, where they awaited his return. When Myers saw the detectives, he drew a pistol, fired a shot and fled down the street. The posse opened fire when the man was a block distant.

One bullet entered the middle of his back and came out near the heart. Another hit him in the left leg. He was removed to Akron city hospital, where he died a few minutes later.

RED HOLT GOES TO DEATH REFUSING FLEA OF WIFE

COLUMBUS—Turning a deaf ear to a final plea of his wife that he tell her where he had a sum of money sequestered which she said she needed for the support of her two small children, Noble "Red" Holt, 27, switchman of Cincinnati, nervously walked to the electric chair early this morning. He was pronounced dead by the prison physicians after one application of current had passed through his body.

Holt's wife visited him late yesterday afternoon and fervently pleaded with him to reveal where his money was and appealed to his fatherly instincts that his children might have proper care and an education. To all her entreaties he turned a deaf ear, according to prison officials. He went to his death without revealing where the money was, if any.

Erie Conductor Is Killed

CRUSHED BY CAR WHEELS HERE

John Stettler, Huntington, Indiana, Falls Under Train

COMPANY EMPLOYE 30 YEARS

Survives Only Short Time After Leg Is Severed

John Stettler, 55, of Huntington, Ind., freight conductor on the Erie Railroad, died at 7:30 a. m. Friday after being injured by east-bound freight train No. 78 at the Erie depot here.

Stettler died 15 minutes after being taken to the City hospital in Stiff's ambulance.

One leg was severed by car wheels and his body was badly cut up by the train, part of which ran over him.

FELL UNDER WHEELS

Stettler in some manner fell from the train and rolled underneath the wheels. None saw the accident, but he was discovered a few minutes later by Harvey Moffett, car inspector for the railroad.

Stettler had been connected with the Erie Railroad for 30 years, according to local railroad men. During most of this period he was a freight conductor.

His widow and several children survive him. They have been notified and were expected to come here Friday to take charge of the body.

20 BARRELS OF WHISKY TAKEN

Kentucky Distillery Guards Held Up by 15 Bandits

LOUISVILLE, Ky.—(Associated Press)—Fifteen men held up guards at the W. B. Daniels distillery, near Bardonia, Ky., early today and carried away 20 barrels of whisky in a stolen truck, according to reports received by federal prohibition officers here.

After overpowering the guards, the robbers fired more than 100 shots, apparently for the purpose of preventing interference, the report said. The truck used by the robbers was stolen from near the distillery. Soon after receiving a report of the robbery, P. Greenmiller, chief prohibition agent for Kentucky and Tennessee, left Louisville at the head of a posse of federal agents and police armed with riot guns. The posse members were to block roads leading from the scene in an attempt to head off the robbers.

DISCOVERED BY WORKMEN
Workmen just outside the motor room discovered the blaze about 10 o'clock when it had gained some headway.

Men from the plant, using the company's fire apparatus started fighting the blaze. City fire departments were called. City departments added men and a motor pump to the equipment of the company and the blaze was under control before 12 o'clock.

There were close to 200 men in the part of the foundry building in which the fire was burning.

They reached the outside in safety, although a few were burned by falling tar from the roof which was badly damaged toward the south end. Tar melted in places and dripped to the inside of the foundry, carrying small flames with it.

NEW EQUIPMENT ORDERED
The sand blasting equipment which was the most seriously damaged was to be replaced in a few weeks with an entirely new system, Beall said. Steel angular grits are to be used in place of sand for the cleaning and polishing of castings.

The new equipment has already been shipped to the local factory, Beall announced.

That part of the plant will be handicapped until the new equipment arrives but the main part of the factory will not be slowed down by the damage. Leather belts to replace those destroyed were ordered before firemen had left the scene.

PARKING LINES PLANNED IN SEVERAL THOROFARES
Lines to help people in parking their automobiles properly in Lima, will be painted on a number of the streets within the next week, according to Police Captain George Strick.

High street will be marked from Union to West, Union from High to Wayne and if it is found necessary others will be chalked off. Places will be marked for parking cars opposite St. Rita's hospital.

All cars are to be parked obliquely, according to plans of the police department.

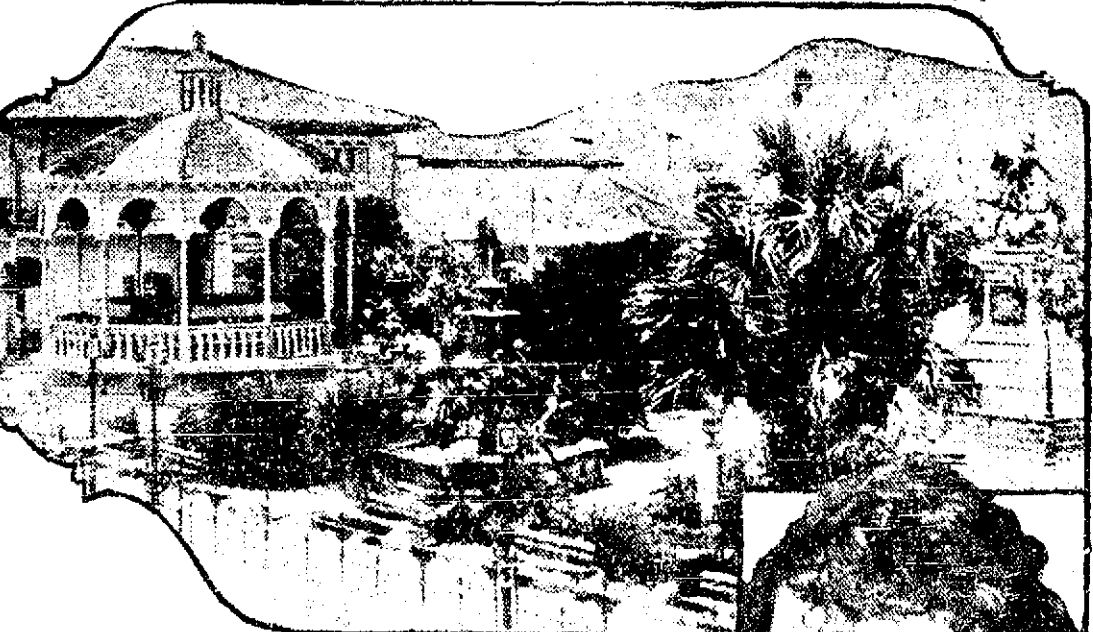

TRIAL IS BEGUN IN CASE FOR RECOVERY OF MONEY
Trial of an action to recover money alleged to have been seized by W. H. Mackenzie as agent for Lima and New Bremen banks, commenced before Judge Fred C. Becker, Friday. C. H. Neville, assignee of Charles Miller, is plaintiff.

February 19, by agreement, Miller sold farm chattels mortgaged to secure notes held by the two banks. It is declared. The notes amounted to $3,800. Other property not covered by the mortgages was also sold.

Mackenzie and others acting as agents for the banks were present and took all the receipts, totaling $4,180. Neville as assignee of Miller, seeks the return of all monies not derived from sale of the mortgaged goods.

Miller is now owner of the Olineda-apts in W. North-st.

FIRE CAUSES $10,000 DAMAGE AT PLANT OF OHIO STEEL FOUNDRY

Buildings and Machinery Are Burned in Blaze Friday

ORIGIN NOT DETERMINED

Concern Will Not be Slowed Down as Result

Fire of undetermined origin caused damage estimated at $10,000 at the Ohio Steel Foundry plant shortly before noon Friday. Both buildings and machinery were damaged. The estimate of the loss was fixed by J. W. Beall of the purchasing department.

Parts of the main foundry building and the cleaning department were burned. A large amount of machinery within these buildings was damaged and leather belts were destroyed.

The fire started in or around the motor room at the extreme south end of the foundry building.

One theory is that a spark from a passing Baltimore and Ohio engine started the blaze while the other is that there was a short circuit in an electric motor which seemed to be the center of the fire when it was discovered.

Men from the plant, using the company's fire apparatus started fighting the blaze. City fire departments were called. City departments added men and a motor pump to the equipment of the company and the blaze was under control before 12 o'clock.

There were close to 200 men in the part of the foundry building in which the fire was burning.

TRANSPORT COORDINATION URGED AT CONVENTION

CLEVELAND—C. D. Emmons of Baltimore, president of the American Electric Railway Association, discussed the coordination of street railway and motor bus transportation at this morning's session of the automotive transportation division of the Society of Automotive Engineers, Inc., convention.

The ultimate solution of local transportation problems, Emmons said, will be the coordination of electric railway and motor bus service.

No conflict exists between the motor and electric railway industries, he declared, although some railroads are suffering from motor competition engendered by individuals.

Leaders of both industries, he added, are working together to determine the best methods of coordinating local service.

GETS NOTE FROM DEAD MOTHER

TOLEDO—(Associated Press)—A scribbled note, purporting to be a message from his dead mother was received by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle Thursday night during a seance with Miss Ada Ebsinet, distinguished Toledo medium. The letter beginning, "My dear son," informed Sir Arthur that his mother had tried to come to him in spirit, but failing, apprised him of her presence by means of the note. The English novelist also received what he said was a whispered message from his nephew Oscar, killed in the world war. Several "spirit" faces, appeared before him and before other members of the party, but none was recognized during the evening.

STUDENT KILLED IN CLASS WAR

Tragedy Results from Kidnaping at Northwestern University

CHICAGO—(United Press)—One Northwestern University freshman was killed and six other persons injured, one seriously in an automobile wreck which was blamed on a variety "class war" today.

Louis Aubre, Chicago, was killed. Another freshman, Ralph Williams, Harlan, Ky., is unconscious in Evanston Hospital with a fractured skull and possible internal injuries.

An automobile containing Aubre, Williams and three other freshmen was reported to have been speeding on Sheridan-st in Wilmette in search of a freshman kidnaped yesterday by sophomores. The machine was wrecked when it collided with a car driven by Mrs. Arthur D. Winslow. Mrs. Winslow and Mrs. I. W. Jordan, returning from a theatre party, were also slightly injured.

The freshman car was declared to have been attempting to evade a carload of sophomores who were trying to thwart the search for the kidnaped lower classman.

U. S. DECLARED BECOMING NATION OF DUMB BELLS

CHICAGO—America is becoming a nation of dumb bells.

Professor Forest A. Kingsbury, noted psychologist of the University of Chicago, in making this assertion here today declared that tests including military examinations during the war, show that 24 per cent. of American men are dumb, feeble-minded, or on the border line.

Twelve per cent. of the nation's male population may be rated as of "superior intelligence," he said. Kingsbury named in this class army officers, college graduates, newspapermen and professional leaders. "The defective class is multiplying more rapidly than the others," he added. "Thus, it becomes a large and increasing social menace."

Kingsbury denied that "dumbness" is confined to the voting class. If public officials were compelled to take mental tests, city halls, court houses, state capitals and halls of congress would present various complications," he asserted.

GIRL CONFESSES FRAMING RUTH

Suit for $50,000 Against Baseball Star Is Withdrawn

NEW YORK—(Associated Press)—Miss Dolores Dixon, who recently brought a suit for $50,000 damages against "Babe" Ruth, the New York Yankees' home run king, alleging seduction and assault, withdrew her case today. The withdrawal was made just as the case of Robert McChesney, who was to have been examined in supreme court as to the record of Miss Dixon, was about to be called.

McChesney did not appear when called, and Hyman Bushnell, Ruth's attorney, asked that the case be dismissed. He produced a stipulation, signed by Miss Dixon, her guardian ad litem, Barbara V. Escoe and her attorney, George Feinberg, withdrawing the suit.

Bushnell announced he also had obtained a confession signed by Miss Dixon in which she admitted the suit was a result of a frameup in which several persons were involved. Ruth's attorney declined to give out the document, saying he would show it to Ruth at Boston today. He then would turn it over to the district attorney for investigation, Bushnell said.

AGREEMENT REACHED
The stipulation, signed by the plaintiffs, which Ruth's attorney submitted to the court was in the form of an agreement by which the suit was to be withdrawn "without costs to either party against the other, an order to that effect to be entered without notice by either to the other."

Bushnell said he had refused to sign the stipulation. Although he kept secret the contents of Miss Dixon's alleged confession, he showed reporters a signature which he said was hers, affixed to the documents.

Ruth was training in the south when the suit was filed and he at once vigorously denied that he ever knew or had seen Miss Dixon. He was joined by Mrs. Ruth in denouncing the case as a blackmail scheme. Miss Dixon, according to her lawyer, is an expectant mother.

$2,000,000 SALE COMPLETED

North Western Ohio Light Sold to New York Company

HOOPER ISSUES STATEMENT

Merger With Ohio Power of Lima Still in Doubt

Confirmation of the sale of the North Western Ohio Light company of Lima to the American Gas & Electric company, New York, which operates in Ohio as the Ohio Power company, was given Friday by F. H. Hooper, general manager of the Light company.

The transaction involved more than $2,000,000, it is understood.

Whether the Light company will be merged with the Ohio Power company was not announced.

The North Western Ohio Light company serves 40 towns and cities in this section of the state and other towns in eastern Indiana.

Power plants of the Light company at Delphi, Urbana and Lohysic are included in the sale.

Other cities served by the company include Van Wert, Ottawa, Deshler, Hicville, Conroy, Ohio City, Grover Hill, Middleport, Ottoville, Antwerp, Hoytville, Catawba, Woodstock, North Lewisburg, Mechanicsburg, Sherwood, Glendora, Fort Jennings, Scott, Haviland and Perna.

HOLDS $50,000,000.
The Ohio Power company recently purchased the Lima Light and power plant of the Ohio Electric company. Its holdings in the state now amount to $50,000,000, it is understood.

An immense power plant is being built by the American Gas & Electric company at Philo, near Zanesville, on the Muskingum river. It will cost between $10,000,000 and $12,000,000 and will be completed in about three years.

The Philo plant, it is understood, will furnish light and power to all cities and towns in northern Ohio in which the company holds franchises. The trunk line will eventually be extended into northern Indiana.

Sale of the North Western property to the American Gas & Electric company means the scrapping of power plants at Delphi, Urbana and Lohysic. It is understood that the Philo station is completed these plants will become reserve stations or will be dismantled.

"This consolidation is but another example of what is going on in various parts of the country," Hooper said Friday. "It reflects a situation not generally understood by the public, that in an attempt to utilize companies to effect economies in the face of increasing operating costs."

"FOOD PRODUCTION"
"There is no secret in the prediction that within the next 10 or 15 years there will be about a dozen large generating plants serving the entire state of Ohio, instead of several hundred small ones," Hooper's statement continues. "In other words, it is injecting food production ideas into the electric light business."

"During the war period," the statement said, "the federal authorities devised a plan to interconnect transmission lines of all the large water power and steam power companies in the eastern states into one great system."

"This was in the interest of fuel economy, and the next step in the government plan was the working out of a similar scheme for the middle western states."

"The complex caught the spirit of this before it was undertaken and are now actively cooperating in connecting their various systems."

"The completion of this construction will be of immense value to Lima and the surrounding territory, where for several years an inadequate amount of electrical capacity has retarded industrial development."

CONSUMERS TO BENEFIT

"Whereas those progressive steps are aimed in the direction of economic operations the foundation feature is a well-defined plan to meet the growing demand for electricity. The program will cost millions of dollars but consumers will benefit by the improved character of service."

Replying to a question as to future rates of electricity, as affected by the general consolidation of facilities, Hooper expressed the opinion that it would only divide the public to predict that the completion of inter-connecting lines would shortly result in a lower selling price.

"A general reduction is not anticipated for some time to come," Hooper said. "In view of conditions governing various lines of business affected by the cost of raw material."

"For a short time," Hooper continued, "during the past year, it looked as if the cost of operating plants was coming down, but the hope of cheaper and lower freight rates has headed for the vanishing point."

"The selling price of electricity is governed by the same economic laws that affect clothes, shoes and other manufactured products which we must all purchase."

CRIME REVEALED BY TELEGRAM

Otis Morey, Farmer, Held in $5,000 on Incest Charge

SISTER, BABE DIED IN HOSPITAL

Spencerville Man Admits Guilt After Arrest

Delivery of a telegram intended for Otis Morey, 33, Spencerville farmer, to an older sister in February, unveiled the tragic end of Otis Morey, 25, victim of her brother's lust, and led to Morey's arrest Thursday night on an incest charge.

The message was sent to Morey by officials of Toledo state hospital, advising him of the death of Opal at that institution.

An operator at Spencerville, anxious to give relatives of the word concerning her, finally gave the contents of the message over the phone to a sister. The message was the first word received concerning Opal since she mysteriously dropped out of sight on September 23.

In the investigation that followed, authorities became convinced that Morey, after bringing about his sister's plight, spirited her away to hide her shame in a Toledo maternity hospital.

ACCUSED CONFESSES
Morey, after hours of questioning, confessed his guilt to Roy Bowerback, county detective and Willis Kasper, police operative, at 2 a. m. Friday. He was arraigned before Judge E. J. Jackson shortly before daybreak.

He pleaded guilty and was held to the Allen-co grand jury on $5,000 bond. Although able to give bond, neighbors fear vengeance of the county jail.

Opal Morey died in the Toledo asylum in February, shortly after the birth of her child. The baby died a week or so afterward.

Brooding over the trouble and the long months spent in the maternity institution had robbed the girl of her reason.

She had never cared for men, authorities said, when her elder sisters, Mrs. E. Fly, Copant and Mrs. Hines, St. Marys, learned her fate, they attacked suspicion to the brother.

Otis Morey ran away from home 21 years ago, it was learned. Opal was then a child of four. He returned seven years ago. He and Opal were, peculiarly strangers. They thought of each other as neighbors and went to live on the old homestead two miles east of Spencerville.

Morey looked after the farm and his sister, then a girl of 18, took care of the home.

Sisters of the girl declare she was rather shy, and never had a beau, nor attended the university social affairs. When seen in company at all, she was either unaccompanied, or with her brother.

MISSED IN SEPTEMBER
Neighbors living near the Morey farm remember seeing the girl for the last time on September 23.

Later, when they missed her, and inquired, Morey is said to have evaded the subject.

"I don't know," he is alleged to have answered. "She's run off some place," he is said to have added.

The sisters told Prosecuting Attorney Lippincott at the time they inquired about Opal, the brother became highly enraged, and flew into a wild passion.

Their suspicions were aroused, but they hesitated to take any action, or report their suspicions, Lippincott said.

Then came the telegram. The sisters reported their suspicions to the prosecutor's office.

Investigation made by Prosecutor Lippincott disclosed Opal had walked into a Toledo hospital on October 6. She refused to go away. She was given work in the laundry.

Morey is said to have visited her on several occasions while she was at the hospital. At the time he was telling the other sisters that he had no idea where the missing girl was, they declared.

DIED IN ASYLUM
After the baby came, Opal was committed to the asylum. She died shortly afterward.

When the message telling of her death reached Spencerville, the operator, unable to locate Morey, and knowing of the anxiety of the sisters, telephoned the message to Mrs. Fly.

The two sisters made a number of trips to Lima, but could not be induced to file an affidavit against their brother, Lippincott said. Thursday night Willis Kasper agreed to file the charge. Morey was arrested at his home shortly before 10 p. m.

For hours he denied his guilt, but finally bit by bit he told the facts and finally made a complete confession, authorities declare.

The mother of the Morey family died more than 20 years ago. The father, also dead, was for years superintendent of the Spencerville schools.

NEED SHOWERS; PROMISE GIVEN

Why worry about weather conditions, present or prospective, so long as the sun shines? In the face of a prediction that calls for partly cloudy tonight and Saturday and warmer in extreme southwest portions tonight, Old Sol labored diligently in projecting his rays of warmth, after a late start.

April has been singularly uneventful so far as showers are concerned, but it is not too late. In fact, that's the line along which the forecaster labored Friday, in framing up conditions to be, in his opinion, from scientific calculations, based on observations a good story told by delicate instruments.

Ted doesn't subscribe to the belief that the sun—nor the moon—is made of green cheese, but he realizes the benefits to man that flow from the orb of day and night. Neither the sun nor moon, but he realizes the benefits to man that flow from the orb of day and night.

Predictions for the immediate future indicate there is a possibility of belated April showers. Gardens need moisture quite badly, to bring about good results.

In their report, judges complimented all contestants. Essays ranking second and third were prepared by Charles Gonella, 323 N. West-st, and Margaret Diamond, 602 N. Elizabeth-st.

The winning essay on the "Value of Courtesy," follows:

"It is not so short but that there is always time enough for courtesy," Emerson.

Courtesy consists of those qualities which one associates with politeness, civility and respect. It is a principle that has influenced in no small measure the social progress of mankind. It has promoted mutual good feeling and has brought a spirit of benevolence, helpfulness and harmony into the daily business and social relations of men.

"Politeness costs nothing and gains everything." The use of courtesy by the individual results in his elevation in the esteem and respect of his fellowmen, causing his worldly prospects to be more favorable.

The use of courtesy in the activities of the modern business and social worlds results in common improvement and betterment. The practice of courtesy in the home, in business and in the general community promotes a kinder and happier spirit. The individual and his community receive the benefit, realize the value of courtesy by its manifestation of good, and so the Kingdom of Good Will is established on earth.

SCHOOL BIDS TO PASSESTIMATES

Material Costs Increase—Program Will Not Be Stopped

Knowledge that bids for the erection of additions to South high and Franklin junior high will be higher than the estimates will not delay the awarding of contracts Friday by the board of education, school officials stated.

Increase in material costs is given as the reason.

Bids were to be opened at 1:30 p. m. Friday in the office of the board of education and cover contracts for additions to South high, including 15 class rooms, library, auditorium and gymnasium. Improvement at Franklin junior high will consist of an extension of the two wings of the building to the street.

Successful bidders will start work on the addition at the end of the school term and specifications require that class rooms at South high be available for use at the opening of the fall term. Work at Franklin school is expected to be completed by the middle of September.

Contractors are expected to complete all the work by 1924.

CRUELTY ALLEGED IN PETITION FOR DIVORCE

Acts of cruelty, alleged to have been perpetrated by Harry J. Norawek, were made the basis for a divorce action filed in court Friday by Mrs. Billie E. Morawek.

She asserted that the defendant struck, assaulted and wounded her and forced her to leave home, by his cruel treatment.

A decree will satisfy her, she declares. No request is made for alimony.

BONDS ARE ADVERTISED

Advertisements for sale of city bonds amounting to $225,800 were published Friday by the city auditor and a statement showing the city's financial condition as of April 26 was mailed out to bond buyers.

The bonds are issued to cover the cost of improvements of 14 streets now being paved.

F. O. P. CLUB WILL HEAR TALK ON COURTESY CHARM

Mrs. Alfred Dole will talk on the subject of "The Charm of Courtesy" at a meeting of the F. O. P. club Friday night at the Y. W. C. A. Semi-annual election of officers and recreation in the gym will follow.

One of the industrial clubs will give a cafeteria supper Saturday from 5 to 7 p. m. open to the public. Proceeds from the supper will be used to send a delegate to the Winona Lake conference to be held the last week in July.

F. C. SNOW IS BEQUEATHED BULK OF WIFE'S ESTATE

Valuable family heirlooms belonging to the late Harriett V. Snow, Spencerville, are to be distributed under terms of her will, probated before Judge Hamilton, Friday. A gold watch will go to Fannie Dutton and a gold ring to Mrs. Alta Crow. Articles of clothing and household goods are to go to the stepchildren, in such proportion as Fred C. Snow, their father, shall direct. A $400 bequest is to be set aside for purchase of a monument. Fred C. Snow, the husband, will inherit the bulk of the estate. Francis George, is nominated executor.

Hoarded or hidden money is a worry and frequently a source of danger, especially if carried on your person. Hidden wealth does no good. EARNED DOLLAR NOW SOUGHT

Germany Shedding Tears Over War on Foreigners

HOTELS AND STORES EMPTIED

Government Criticized for Tax Imposed on Visitors

BERLIN (United Press)—Germany, last year cursing the "valued swollen foreigners" as undesirable, is now waiting at their absence.

Forecasting that the American this summer will "see America first," hotelkeepers, merchants and the press are shedding tears over the impolitic and unfair discriminations accorded visitors within the German Reich last season.

The Berlin city government is being taken to task for taxing foreigners 10 per cent in hotels, thereby driving them away. And the main government is criticized for limiting visas into Germany.

"It appears that the Berlin tourist traffic is in its last throes," writes the Neue Berliner Zeitung. "Last year, short-sightedly enough, there was much talk about the foreigners buying out Germany, but now with the foreign visitors scarce, many wish for a renewal of the dollar blessing. But one cannot simultaneously use foreigners as a 'burdensome foreigner' and 'milk-cows'."

The hotels, great and small, are now half or nearly wholly empty and the stores in the Leipzig and Praterstrasse streets, chiefly patronized by foreigners, have almost no trading now.

MAY FORCE CHANGE
"Indeed, the tactics used by officials for foreigners since the war has been constantly un-understandable. It can still be remembered how officials and interested circles could scarcely wait last year for the stream of foreigners. It will also be remembered how, when they are in, the same circles spoke about the selling out of Germany when, as a matter of fact, the foreigners brought into the country much money."

"All the more un-understandable is the persistence with which authorities further pursue the policy toward foreigners begun last year."

"The hotel and storekeepers now are planning to bring pressure upon the Berlin city government to force a change in the hotel tax, especially in view of the fact that with the tax, hotel rooms in Berlin cost more money than in New York.

The cry of the Neue Berliner is echoed in other papers which were, last year, particularly offensive in their condemnation of foreigners, for "bleeding poor Germany with their dollars and pounds."

SEEK RELATIVES HERE OF MAN DROWNED IN LAKE

Police here Friday were seeking information which may lead to the locating of relatives of Jacob Winters, 55, whose home is said to be in Lima, and whose body was found in Lake Michigan at Chicago Thursday.

Chicago officials telegraphed Lima police Thursday night and sought their co-operation in finding the man's relatives.

PROPERTY VALUATIONS UNFAIR, BINGHAM TELLS IN URGING REAPPRAISAL

Property valuations in Lima are not only inadequate but unfair, City Manager C. A. Bingham told members of the Realtors' Board Thursday night, in an appeal for their cooperation with the officials in an effort to bring about a reappraisal of city property.

Lima has an assessed valuation of $1,000 per capita, one-half the valuation of most cities of its size in the state, Bingham said. Under the present system of tax collection the man with improvements recently made pays his full share of taxes, while the man with property unappraised since 1919 pays taxes on about one-half the real value of the property, Bingham declared.

O. D. Fisher urged that realtors

and others interested in Lima property make greater efforts to beautify the downtown section of the city and recommended Lima real estate as a safe investment.

Other speakers at the dinner meeting were S. S. Fisher, who told of the 99 year lease plan; J. I. Motter, who explained the multiple listing system; Elmer Webb who spoke on the relation of realtor to client; Franklin Cover who talked on finance; John W. Roby, who told of work of the building loan associations and J. E. Moxon, manager of the Board of Commerce, who informed realtors of activities of the Board.

Three kinds of a tub
To wash—to rinse—to bleach
When time bleeds to the first one
The third had nothing to do!

A LITTLE Pixie tablet turns your soap-suds blue in the wash-boiler (or wash tub or washing machine).

Then you put the clothes into those blue suds and boil or wash as usual, thus doing your bluing at the same time. (And doing it better too, because the hot water and the turmoil of the wash-boiler gives a more perfect mixture, avoiding streaks.)

When you rinse, the blue comes away with the soapy water and you take the clothes straight to the clothes line. You don't need the bluing tub at all, and all that work is saved.

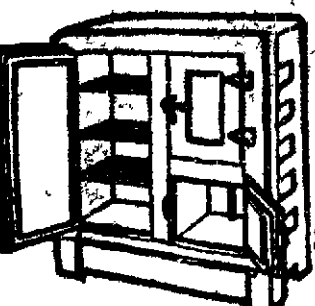

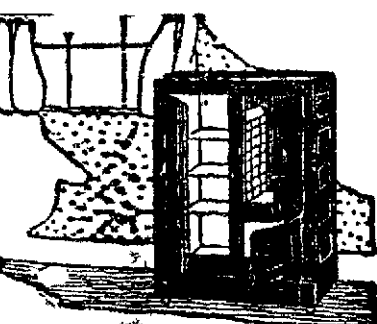

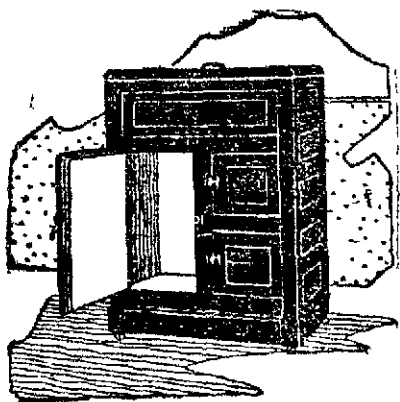

You will find the clothes are whiter than ever before.

SPURNED DOLLAR NOW SOUGHT

Germany Shedding Tears Over War on Foreigners

HOTELS AND STORES EMPTIED

Government Criticized for Tax Imposed on Visitors

BERLIN — (United Press) — Germany, last year cursing the "velvet swollen foreigners" as undesirable, is now wailing at their absence.

Foreseeing that the American this summer will "see America first," hotelkeepers, merchants and the press are shedding tears over the impatience and unfair discriminations accorded visitors within the German gates last season.

The Berlin city government is being taken to task for taxing foreigners 50 per cent in hotels, thereby driving them away. And the main government is criticized for limiting visas into Germany.

"It appears that the Berlin tourist traffic is in its last throes," writes the Neue Berliner Zeitung. "Last year, short-sightedly enough, there was much talk about the foreigners buying out Germany, but now with the foreign visitors scarce, many wish for a renewal of the dollar blessing. But one cannot simultaneously use foreigners as a 'burdensome foreigners' and milch cows. . . . The hotels, great and small, are now half or nearly wholly empty and the stores in the Leipziger and Friedrich streets, chiefly patronized by foreigners, have almost no trading now."

MAY FORCE CHANGE

"Indeed, the tactics used by officials for foreigners since the war has been constantly un-understandable. It can still be remembered how officials and interested circles could scarcely wait last year for the stream of foreigners. It will also be remembered how, when this stream came in, the same circles spoke about the selling out of Germany when, as a matter of fact, the foreigners brought into the country much money."

"All the more un-understandable is the persistence with which authorities further pursue the policy toward foreigners begun last year."

"The hotel and storekeepers now are planning to bring pressure upon the Berlin city government to force a change in the hotel tax, especially in view of the fact that with the tax, hotel rooms in Berlin cost more money than in New York.

The cry of the Neue Berliner is echoed in other papers which were, last year, particularly offensive in their condemnation of foreigners, for "bleeding poor Germany with their dollars and pounds."

SEEK RELATIVES HERE OF MAN DROWNED IN LAKE

Police here Friday were seeking information which may lead to the locating of relatives of Jacob Winters, 35, whose home is said to be in Lima, and whose body was found in Lake Michigan at Chicago Thursday.

Chicago officials telegraphed Lima police Thursday night and sought their co-operation in finding the man's relatives.

PROPERTY VALUATIONS UNFAIR, BINGHAM TELLS IN URGING REAPPRAISAL

Property valuations in Lima are not only inadequate but unfair, City Manager C. A. Bingham told members of the Real Estate Board Thursday night, in an appeal for their cooperation with the officials in an effort to bring about a reappraisal of city property.

Of Lima has an assessed valuation of $1,000 per capita, one-half the valuation of most cities of its size in the state, Bingham said. Under the present system of tax collection, a man with improvements recently made pays his full share of taxes, while the man with property unimproved since 1910 pays taxes on about one-half the real value of the property, Bingham declared.

O. D. Fisher urged that realtors

and others interested in Lima property make greater efforts to beautify the downtown section of the city and recommended Lima real estate as a safe investment.

Other speakers at the dinner meeting were S. S. Fisher, who told of the 99 year lease plan; J. I. Motter, who explained the multiple listing system; Elmer Webb who spoke on the relation of realtor to client; Franklin Covey, who talked on finance; John W. Koby, who told of work of the building loan associations and J. E. Merion, manager of the Board of Commerce, who informed realtors of activities of the board.

SIRE SURVEY IS PLANNED HERE

Men-60 Lags, State Report Shows—Perry Bureau Elects

Action of Bath and Jackson-tips in instituting a sire survey to be conducted later in the season will help bring Allen-co nearer to surrounding counties in the raising of pure bred stock. H. J. Ridge, Allen-co agent believes.

The campaign for pure bred stock being conducted thruout the state finds Allen lagging behind, Ridge says. Ohio leads all states of the union in pure stock population, statistics show, but within the past quarter both Vermont and West Virginia have been more active in securing pledges of stock raisers to produce nothing but pure bred stock.

A total of 2,481 farmers in the state have enrolled in the pure bred stock campaign. Miami-co is the only county in the state cited by Washington officials for unusual activity within the past quarter. The county has turned in 56 enrollments.

Ray Siderer was chosen chairman of the Perry-tip Farm bureau at the annual election of officers Thursday evening at the township house. Ray Nelson was picked as vice-chairman and Ralph Osman secretary-treasurer. C. B. Ream was appointed to lead pig club work for the year and Mrs. Ralph Feltner will supervise work of the clothing clubs.

H. J. Ridge, county agent, spoke to members of the township bureau on club work and community activities.

Farm Bureau office has sent for following bulletins to be distributed to Allen-co residents who desire them: Home Beautification, Pure-bred Sires and Community Breeding in Ohio.

HAD RHEUMATISM IN HIS LIMBS

Almost Had to Crawl Upstairs Because of the Pain and Soreness

RELIEVED BY PLANT JUICE

"I can honestly recommend your Plant Juice medicine to everybody who suffers as I did because it has made me feel better than for years and surely did me a great deal of good," said Mr. S. Roberts, of Beaverton, Ohio, while talking with

MR. S. ROBERTS
The Plant Juice Man recently at Hunter's drug store, 49 Public Square, where this surprising herbal medicine, Plant Juice, is being introduced and explained to the local public.

"For a long time I had suffered from the rheumatism," Mr. Roberts continued. "My limbs ached and pained me almost constantly and from my knees down to my feet I was so stiff and sore that I had to almost crawl up and down stairs. I suffered from the catarrh in my head and it got so bad that there was a buzzing sound in my ears. My bowels were in bad condition."

"I tried many medicines but I never found anything to relieve me until I started taking your Plant Juice and I am glad to say that I began to improve from the time I took the first bottle of your remedy. I can now walk up and down the stairs without the least trouble because the rheumatism has been relieved so much that the stiffness has left me. The catarrh in my head is greatly improved also and the ringing and buzzing sound in my ears is gone. I eat and sleep fine and feel better than for years and I want to give your Plant Juice medicine the full credit for it all."

The Plant Juice Man is at Hunter's drug store, 49 Public Square, Lima, where he is daily meeting the local public and introducing and explaining the merits of this remedy. Free samples given.

Plant Juice is sold also in Lima at Hunter's drug store at Main and Wayne streets and at the Arkonne drug store, opposite Post Office.

School Teacher's Friends Made Glad

One of them had this to say yesterday. "We never thought that poor Ellen would ever recover, she had suffered so long from stomach and liver trouble and had lost more than 40 pounds in weight. She took a bottle of May's Wonderful Remedy upon the advice of her aunt and has steadily improved from the first dose. We are all confident of her complete recovery." It removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract, and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded at Hunter's 3 stores and druggists everywhere.—adv.

LESS DRINK MAY BOOST FOOD

British Parliament Restaurant Running at Loss

CROP IN BAR PATRONAGE

Majority of Labor Party Declared to be Teetotalers

LONDON — (Associated Press) — In proportion to their numbers, the members of the Labor Party drink far less than those of any political party represented in parliament. It was asserted by Dr. Salter, Labor M. P., in address before the Industrial Christian Fellowship, so many of his party are teetotalers, he said, that they will soon be called upon to pay more for their meals. Dr. Salter said in the past few years the Kitchen Committee—that is, the committee responsible for the conduct of the refreshment department—had barely succeeded in making both ends meet. RESTAURANT LOSING "At the committee now complaining," he added, "that the restaurant is being run at a heavy loss. The sole reason for that is that the great accession in strength to the Labor Party—which now numbers 144 members—has caused a great falling off in the consumption of alcoholic drinks in the house. Many members who had formerly patronized the bar in the past did not succeed in getting re-elected. And of the labor members who took their places, three-quarters are total abstainers. They contribute practically nothing to the profits of the restaurant. Everybody is familiar with the restaurant business, knows that it is out of the drinks sold that the bulk of their profits are made. The Kitchen Committee is now considering whether, in order to make up for its decreased profits at the bar, it will not be necessary to increase its charges for meals.

We Stop Falling Hair

Grow New Hair in 90 Days or Your Money Refunded

This New Way

Science discovers falling, lustreless hair due to simple infection (Sebum). Now quickly overcomes it. Hair actually grown on 91 heads in 100.

This is to offer you new hair—lustrous, beautiful, attractive—or money refunded under our 90-day treatment plan.

It offers, too, to stop falling hair. If we fail, the treatment costs you nothing. Your own druggist signs the guarantee. Hence we assume the risk.

Thousands of women have made this test. Results are amazing. The charm of wonderful hair is now available to any one who chooses to have it.

The Infected Sebum in Your Hair

Sebum is an oil. It forms at the follicles of the hair. Its natural function is to supply the hair with oil.

But frequently it becomes infected. It cakes on the scalp, clogs the follicles and plugs them. Germs by the millions breed in it, then feed upon the hair. Soon your hair begins falling. You note too how lifeless it appears. In a short time, all the natural lustre and beauty are gone.

But—and note this scientific fact—remove the Sebum and the hair reverts back to the softness and brilliancy it displayed when you were a school girl.

The Van Ess treatment accomplishes that result. We know you will doubt it. So we guarantee it. We urge you to give this new way a fair trial. It is folly not to test it; for, remember, you take no risk.

Go to any druggist or department store today. Ask for the Van Ess Liquid Scalp Massage on the 3-bottle treatment plan. Written guarantee accompanies it.

BIG RAIL JOB NEAR COMPLETION

U. S. Putting Finishing Touches on Alaskan Line

EIGHT YEARS IN BUILDING

Cost of Construction to Government Put at $56,000,000

WASHINGTON — (Associated Press) — With the addition of a few last touches on a large steel bridge over the Tanana River at Nenana, Alaska, the government will practically complete the second largest construction job it has ever undertaken. This is the Alaska Railroad, which has cost approximately $56,000,000, was eight years in building, and which runs 467 miles into the heart of the territory from Seward, on Resurrection Bay, to Fairbanks, on the Tanana. By the end of June the construction force will lay down tools for the last time. Trains are running the entire length of the road, and have been for about 18 months.

What the road will mean to Alaska and its people, government officials hesitate to say. The returns will be immense. The development of the territory's mineral resources and agricultural possibilities resulting from completion of a successful artery connecting with the outside world the entire year round, is beyond compute.

Annual revenues from freight and passengers already exceed $200,000, and as traffic increases with completion engineers see a revenue of almost a million dollars annually.

MUCH COAL THERE
While Alaska is usually thought of as a land of gold and ice, its mineral production has been only a portion of its resources. Coal also is found extensively, as well as the slightly less valuable lignite, gas and oil have been discovered, and development has started only recently. The railroad penetrates these fields, and not only provides the rest of Alaska with fuel cheaper than can be imported, but may some day make them an important source for the nation.

The fishing, timber industry and homesteading in Alaska's rich agricultural districts will all be benefited, there is the transportation and cheaper rates on food and clothing. While the interior has heretofore been locked in tightly in winter except to sleds, the railroad will provide a ready exit to open water to the south during the entire year.

While the climate was one of the most formidable obstacles to construction, others as difficult were met and overcome. Even the winter freezing of the river was put to advantage to facilitate bridge construction. The thick ice was utilized to bear much of the false work.

Three long bridges were built. The first, across the Susitna River at Gold Creek is 500 feet span that cost approximately $11,000. The Hurricane Gulch bridge, built against the rocky canyon walls, is 300 feet above the stream and has a span of 250 feet. The Nenana bridge, which is just being completed, spans the Tanana at that town over a 700 foot bridge which, with trestle approaches, is 1,200 feet in over-all length. No channel piers were used in these bridges because of the danger of the spring ice break-up.

Grand Pass, the highest point of the road, where it crosses the Alaskan Range, is 2,100 feet above sea level.

BIKE STOLEN
A chainless bicycle belonging to J. E. Rader, 677 N. Jackson-st., was reported stolen Thursday night from 310 E. Alameda-st. Police are seeking the thief.

LAUREL, Md.—(Special)—Five years ago Miss Eleanor Fitzgibbons was pursuing her hobby of collecting antique furniture.

Today this young college woman is raising some of the most blue-blooded, high-priced Jersey cattle in this country.

The story of Miss Fitzgibbons' remarkable success, in a line of which she knew nothing only a few years ago, displays the advantages of college training and—well, spunk, pure spunk.

It was spunk that led Miss Fitzgibbons into this business. For Jerseys, Guernseys, Shorthorns—all were alike to her. A cow was a cow, whatever its pedigree, she thought. Now she knows and she's profiting on that knowledge.

COLLEGE DID IT
"I just went at things as a college woman would," said Miss Fitzgibbons, when I asked her how she accounted for her unusual success.

"Going into the cattle business was an accident," she explained. "But I do believe it is the most fascinating work in the world."

"I had to find a large home to hold the antique furniture which has always been my fad. I found just such a place as I wanted down here. I took the farm because it went with the house."

"When it occurred to me the land might be put to some good use, as I did as any college woman would, I asked the University of Maryland to send out experts to look it over and see what I had better raise on it. I knew nothing about it myself."

"They told me lime and livestock would be needed to make the soil fit to raise anything. So I wrote to the various cattle associations and asked them to send me their arguments for the various kind of cattle."

STARTS WITH PRIZE
"A year after that I had stacked my farm with Jerseys and had bought a fourth interest in Sybil's Galubogo, a blooded animal that brought the record price of $65,000 in 1919."

Today Miss Fitzgibbons has 125 prize cattle on her farm. She expects to make semi-annual trips to the island of Jersey to pick out animals to sell here. She probably knows more about the Jersey cow than any other woman in this country—and I doubt if many men are as well informed as she is.

"I started out knowing nothing," she said, "so, of course, I had nothing to unlearn. I've had all the books the government issues on cattle, as well as all bulletins from agricultural colleges. I've used every bit of information I ever got at college, and it has helped me to know where to find more."

WORK AND WORRY
"The work is hard. Many a night I've slept in my barn because some calf was sick and I was afraid to trust anyone else to care for it."

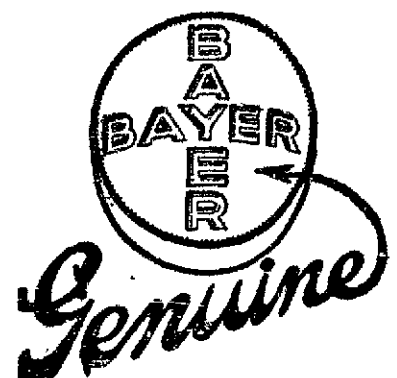

"I've stuck at the business until every man who gave me six months in which to fail has become convinced I'm in earnest. I've put a fortune into the cattle—and I expect to get a bigger one out of them."

"And I believe cattle raising is an ideal business for women."

Miss Fitzgibbons is an excellent argument in favor of the college woman's way.

BARN DESTROYED BY FLAMES

Boy Hero Saves Four Horses From Fire Near Delphos

Fire of unknown origin destroyed a barn on the farm of A. J. Rahrig, five miles south of Delphos on the Spencerville rd., at 6:30 p. m. Thursday. Loss on barn and contents is estimated at $8,000.

Lowell Rahrig, a son, succeeded in saving four horses caught in the burning structure, by blindfolding them and leading them thru smoke to safety. A calf was burned to death before help could reach it.

Farming implements, valued at several thousand dollars, as well as several tons of hay and straw, were destroyed.

A hand brigade formed by neighbors, prevented the flames from spreading to nearby buildings. One side of the machinery building was scorched.

The fire was discovered shortly after 6 p. m. by members of the Rahrig family, just as the flames were breaking thru near the top of the barn. No electric wires enter the building and no one was seen nearby before the fire started.

The barn was built last fall at a cost of $5,000.

GRAIN ELEVATOR ORDERED RAZED AT DELPHOS; RAIL COMPANY TO USE GROUNDS

Thirty day notice given by the A. C. & Y. Railroad company to operators of the Hession Elevator company, Delphos, to raise their elevator, will expire Saturday, according to D. Watkins, traveling freight agent of the Railroad.

The elevator is being operated by F. B. Schneider and son, thru John F. Lindemann, trustee in bankruptcy. The business was placed in the hands of a receiver several months ago by S. Hession, who operated the place up until that time.

According to Watkins, the elevator is built on ground that belongs to the railroad and is leased on the condition that either party may terminate the lease on a notice of 30 days. This notice was given by the railroad company 30 days ago, Watkins stated. It is claimed that the railroad wants the ground for trackage.

The affairs of the company are now in the hands of the trustee in bankruptcy, who claims that nothing can be done until an order is secured from the United States court, thru Judge John M. Killis, of Toledo.

Lindemann claims that the rent for the ground is paid until next December.

CANAL IMPROVEMENTS PLANNED AT DELPHOS

A portion of the $1,272 that has been allowed for labor and improvements along the Miami & Erie canal between Spencerville and Toledo, will be spent in Delphos, according to Canal Foreman W. J. Alexander.

Two concrete brace piers on the north side of Lock 23, just north of Third-st., will be erected and the mill lot nearby will be leveled, he announced.

These repairs will be made at once, as another appropriation is due next July.

Alexander stated that after the allowance is received in July the work of dredging out the two Delphos locks will start.

A dredge, now at the Lorain reservoir, will be used, Alexander said.

Several of the players stated they were compelled to work on that day. The date was changed to Saturday from the usual Friday date, because of the inter-school basketball game held at Van Wert Friday. If the game is again postponed, it will probably be played on Tuesday of next week, Gorrell said.

COAT BORROWED, MONEY MISSING, WOMAN SAYS

Mrs. H. Hughes, colored, S. Clay-st., Delphos, complained to police Thursday night that someone stole $9 from her purse.

Police brought in Mrs. Hughes and Mrs. D. Davis, a neighbor, who Mrs. Hughes claimed borrowed her coat and that the money was in a pocket of the coat when it left the house, but was missing when the coat was returned.

Mrs. Davis was not arrested and the pair was dismissed by Mayor J. K. Williams, when he failed to find grounds for an arrest.

PUTNAM-CO SHERIFF GETS FIRST "GUEST" IN MONTHS

When a cell door closed upon James Powell, alleged purloiner of a bale of hay, Thursday at the Putnam-co jail, was broken an almost total guestless period of nine weeks.

Except for a few hours detention of a man held to clear up a misunderstanding, there was not a prisoner in the jail since February 20, records disclose.

The single occupant walked in during the guestless period Sheriff R. N. McCullough had the county hoosegow thoroughly scrubbed, and polished.

LOUNGERS ROW RETURNS AT OTTAWA COURTHOUSE

Despite chilly zephyrs that frisked about the corners of the courthouse in Ottawa Friday those who had occasion to visit the Putnam-co administration building walked in spring atmosphere, for lining the boardwalk of the main entrance were the iron park seats which will be regular fixtures thruout the warm months.

They were placed there Thursday. Four of them, sufficient to seat 15 persons comfortably, were placed on each side.

CACHE FOUND IN TIRE THEFTS

Chain of Evidence Forged About
Ring of Auto Thieves

NO TIRES FOUND IN CANAL

Further Search Planned Friday
for Missing Loot

Discovery of a new cache of alleged stolen auto tires at Spencerville Thursday afternoon, places in hands of county authorities another link in the chain of evidence that is being forged to convict members of an inter-state auto ring, believed to have its headquarters in that village.

Sheriff Harvey B. Croston, 5 H. Lawwell and D. Edwards, Columbus, operatives reclaimed the tires. Serial numbers and other marks of identification had been removed by the thieves.

Sheriff Croston now has more than two dozen stolen tires in his possession which will be used as evidence.

TIRES NOT FOUND
An attempt to reveal a secret hiding place for tires, jewelry and other stolen articles, by draining the Miami and Erie canal Thursday, failed. The water was lowered only a few inches when the locks were opened, and the searchers found no tires in the bottom of the ditch.

A second attempt to drain the canal was to be made Friday.

Floyd Mofford, first of the gang to be arrested, was taken out to Spencerville Thursday to point out the possible location where the tires are said to have been thrown into the canal. George "Crutch" Crookshanks Ray Krugh, held in Van Wert, is a second man under arrest. His confession covering a robbery at Convoys, is in the hands of the authorities, it is stated.

Detectives describe Krugh as a clever worker, who has hitherto defied capture. He has never seen in his picture, they say.

12 LIVES LOST IN TENEMENT FIRE

New York Building is Guttled by Mysterious Flames

20 OF OCCUPANTS INJURED

One Family Wiped Out—Thrilling Rescues Made

NEW YORK—(Associated Press)

Fire of mysterious origin, starting in a pile of rubbish on the first floor of a five-story brick tenement in East 109th-st early today mushroomed thru the building and caused the deaths of twelve persons, members of two families living on the top floor.

Twenty persons were injured and firemen made spectacular rescues of many of the 200 living in the building. Seven of the dead were members of the family of David Mandelbaum, a painter, who had planned to move today to a little farm upstate, which he recently purchased. They were Mrs. Mandelbaum and her children, whose ages ranged from one to 16 years.

The other dead were Aaron Kuzis, his wife, their daughter, Bertha, 21, their son, David, 18, and a relative, Mrs. Isaac Brownstein, who is visiting them.

FATHER, SON SAVED

Mandelbaum, who was rescued by firemen and police after he had made a desperate attempt to save his family, said he was awakened by smoke and when he opened the door of his bedroom he was met with a rush of flame. His little son, Hyman, who also had been awakened, crawled on his hands and knees behind him. Mandelbaum placed the youngster on the fire escape and told him to climb down and wait for the firemen. He was rescued.

The Kuzis family which occupied an apartment opposite the Mandelbaums was trapped. Mrs. Brownstein was pulled out of the room unconscious by firemen and taken to a hospital where she died.

Today's fire was in a five-story tenement house within three blocks of a six-story structure at Lexington and 110th-st, in which 15 persons died in a fire last October 21. The Lexington-av fire was said by the police to have been of incendiary origin.

CAB AIDS IN RESCUE

Many of the tenants, clad only in their night clothes, fled down a rear fire escape which ended at the first floor, 25 feet above the ground. A Taxicab driver drove his car beneath the safety platform, the fire victims dropping to the roof of the car and from there to the ground. Many of the injured were taken to hospitals in the same cab.

Many more persons would have been trapped by the flames, according to the police, had it not been for Michael Kaufman, a city employ-living across from the burned tenement, who discovered the fire. Seeing smoke and flames shooting from a fourth floor window, Kaufman telephoned a fire alarm and immediately rushed across the street into the burning building and ran thru the halls of the five floors blowing a police whistle between shouts of "fire." As he fled from the building the rapidly spreading flames enveloped the wooden stairways, driving the forty or more tenants still in the building to seek safety thru the windows or on the fire escapes.

Arriving at the street, Kaufman continued to blow his police whistle until he attracted the attention of Angelo Magaria, a taxi driver, who drove his car beneath the fire escape, landing at the first floor from which the terror-stricken tenants dropped to the cab's roof.

HANGING TO WINDOWS

With the arrival of the fire department, a half dozen men and women were found to be hanging from widow sills and were brought to safety after thrilling rescues. A number of persons who stood at windows were only prevented from jumping from the fourth and fifth floors by the encouraging shouts of firemen who hastily ran up aerial ladders and carried them to the street.

Sympathetic neighbors hastily organized a relief squad and after providing wraps and clothing for the fire victims, took them into their homes.

BUSINESS SOARS TO NEW HIGH

8 Per Cent Above 1920 Peak, Reserve Board Reports

WASHINGTON—(Associated Press)

Continued increases in industrial production, further expansion in building operations and freight movements heavier each week than in any corresponding week in four years, were reported as among the outstanding features of business conditions this month in a statement today by the Federal Reserve Board. General production, the statement announced, was eight per cent higher on the board's index ratio than the high peak of 1920 and 67 per cent above the low point of 1921.

While the board's statement dealt largely with expansion, it was devoid of comment as to the length to which the expansion may go. It was ascertained, however, that in some official quarters the belief is held that pyramiding of orders is developing and some alarm was expressed as the significance of this condition.

There has as yet been no reflection in the rediscunts by the Federal Reserve banks of the reported heavy borrowings from member banks of the reserve system. The banks, it was said, have been able thus far to take care of the calls for funds which have become increasingly great as the industrial expansion progressed.

The loans of member banks for commercial purposes increased $48,000 in the thirty days prior to April 11. The increase, however, has not been reflected in the rediscunts of the reserve banks largely as a result, the statement explained, of withdrawal of funds from investments and the continued inflow of gold. This condition also has resulted in more or less stable money rates.

POLICE ARE REPORTED AS "SUSPICIOUS CHARACTERS"

Charles Killen, 1307 State-st, reported to police Thursday night that three suspicious looking characters were loitering at the corner of Cole and Lakewood-av and that two men were sitting in an old touring car on Kenilworth, near State-st, with the car lights out.

The report was referred to Detectives Ward Taylor and Tom Lawler who said they could not find the three men. They identified the two men in the automobile as themselves.

ARE WOMEN OVERWORKED

Yes, hundreds of thousands of them are. This applies to the housewife and mother who struggles on a small income to make both ends meet by doing all the washing, ironing, cooking, making and mending for a large family. There are others who not only support themselves working in factories, shops, stores and offices, but often have an invalid father or mother to support, therefore do housework beside.

These are the women who break down early and are afflicted with various forms of female weakness. Ninety-eight out of every 100 women who have tried Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound have proved that it is a successful remedy for woman's ills. For nearly fifty years it has been restoring women to health, and it will pay every woman to try it.—Adv.

DATE NOT SET IN WELTY CASE

Time of Arraignment Not Designated by Court

ACCUSED UNDER $1,500 BOND

Attorney Declares He Will Disprove Charges

Date of the arraignment of Benjamin F. Welty, attorney and former congressman from the fourth district, on an indictment charging that he unlawfully solicited and received fees for obtaining collection on a soldier's compensation claim, may not be held for another week, according to Toledo advice.

Welty is at liberty on $1,500 bond, signed personally. He has expressed confidence in being able to prove himself innocent of the charges brought by the American Legion.

The service men's organization first brought to the attention of the department of justice Welty's alleged infraction of the law governing the collection of fees in connection with obtaining compensation for soldiers.

STRAYER IN HOSPITAL

The indictment against Welty accuses him of obtaining $1,274.64 for collecting a $3,700 claim for Franklin R. Strayer, an Allen-co soldier. Strayer was in the army but a few days. He is now an inmate of Toledo state hospital.

Attorney Frank H. Downing, former partner of Welty, who represented him in the preliminary steps in the case, was out of the city Friday.

Downing was in Toledo a portion of the time the federal grand jury was considering the case.

William Strayer, father of Franklin Strayer, and brothers of the boy, are said to have been important witnesses for the government before the grand jury.

Judge John M. Kilhe of Toledo, will probably preside at the trial of the case.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY OFFICER SPEAKS HERE

Mrs. Anna Atwater, of St. Louis, vice-president of the United Christian Missionary societies, spoke to members of Churches of Christ of Northwestern Ohio Friday at Central church of Christ.

Sessions were held at 10:30 a. m. and at 2:30 p. m. at which Mrs. Atwater told of her work in Mexico and South America. Mrs. Atwater also spoke to members of the Church Council club at the Y. M. C. A. at their weekly noonday meeting.

Miss Mary Lyons, state secretary of the Woman's Missionary society of Ohio, also attended both sessions of the missionary meeting.

Alkali in Shampoos Bad For Washing Hair

Many soaps are prepared shampoos contain too much free alkali which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is Mulisified coconut shampoo, for this is pre and entirely greaseless. It is very cheap and beats anything else all to pieces. You can get Mulisified at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Two or three three teaspoonfuls of Mulisified in a cup or glass with a little warm water is all that is required. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub the Mulisified coconut oil in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to manage. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff. Be sure your druggist gives you Mulisified.—adv.

KING FIGHTING TO HOLD REALM

Separatists Threaten to Split Nation of Yugoslavia

REBELS GAIN IN STRENGTH

One Dissenting Faction is Headed by Bookseller

By WILLIAM PHILIP SIMMS
BELGRADE. — (Special.) — Alexander I., king of the Serbs, Croats and Slovenes, is going to have the battle of his life holding his kingdom together. In fact the battle has begun.
The Croats, Slovenes and Bosnians want autonomy. By autonomy they mean they want all the way from a republic to local self-government as individual states in the United States have.
Although the movement for autonomy had independent beginnings in Croatia, Slovenia, Bosnia and Herzegovina, it has now consolidated in a sort of bloc, dangerous to Serb ambitions.
Nobody in Yugoslavia thinks or talks anything like the government of Premier Pashitch is profoundly disturbed.
For the whole trend of sentiment in the country today is toward breaking up into small self-governing states with but a nominal tie to Belgrade and King Alexander, and away from centralized power.
BOOKSELLER IS LEADER
The leader of the separatists, or those who clamor for autonomy, is a bookseller in Zagreb, named Raditch. You can remember it because it is pronounced almost exactly like the little red vegetable you have on your table these spring days. And you should remember it for it is going to figure in Balkan history if he remains on the scene.
Raditch is the leader of the Croats. And the Croats, who live in modern northwestern Serbia, like most people in this part of the world, are peasants and very close to the soil.
So when not behind the counter of his bookshop in Zagreb, Raditch may be seen dressed in peasant costume — sandals, embroidered stockings and all — making speeches to his Croat followers or talking to them in the fields and in their own dialect.
Here in Belgrade, Raditch is called a self-seeker; a bag of wind; a charlatan; a demagogue. They say he drives out of Zagreb in a high-powered motor car and changes into peasant costume just before reaching his destination.
In Zagreb they say he is a patriot and very much in earnest. And to prove they really think what they say, the Raditch, or Croat, party in the March elections made terrific gains, dealing a blow to the old Serb, or governing bloc.

The Croats had only 50 deputies in the old parliament out of a total of 417 members. Today they have 70 out of a reduced total of 313.
The radicals — Premier Pashitch's party — and democrats together had 183 members in the old house. They have but 153 in the new. While the radicals won 16 seats the democrats lost 40, thanks partly to a bitter fight made on them by the radicals. So it is not expected the two parties will work together so well now when so much may depend upon it.
The Slovenes are led by a priest, Father Koroshetz. The Bosnians, who have made common cause with the Croats and Slovenes for political purposes, have 23 members. With the clericals 22 and the others who may be expected to join with them against the government, they form a dangerous bloc.
Religion enters largely into the fight. The Serbs are Greek Orthodox. The Croats and Slovenes are Catholic. According to the latest figures there were 5,463,000 Orthodox and 4,475,000 Roman Catholics. 345,000 Bosnians and about 750,000 others in the country. The Orthodox have not a very great majority — none, if the others unite against them.
Raditch says he is a republican but is willing for Croatia to remain inside Serbia as now defined providing she is given full autonomy. He would like a republic in Croatia and a kingdom in Serbia, the two being bound together about as Austria and Hungary formerly were.
Koroshetz would like Slovenia to be a state within a Serbian union.
WAREHOUSE BURNED
SPRINGFIELD — Fire destroyed a warehouse of the Buckeye Incubator Company at an estimated damage of $20,000.

LETTER FROM LESLIE PRESCOTT TO HER YOUNGER SISTER, ALICE HAMILTON.

DEAR LITTLE SISTER:

I have just had a letter from Vera Stokley. You know she started for London a day or two after my wedding to your family.

She tells me that your little friend Betty is writing a book and that it has the weirdest plot which involves a string of pearls. I have an intuition that you two girls have in some way patched up a story about my pearl beads.

You seemed rather suspicious and mysterious about them when you gave them to me. Now that I have had time to think over them I have become rather curious about them.

Everyone admires them so much Jack said the other day that they were the loveliest imitations he had ever seen. He makes me wear them on all occasions.

I wore them the other night to a restaurant dinner and a man at the next table eyed me so much that Jack told me he was going over to pinch his head until I had his attention to the fact that a man was not looking at me at all, but at my beads.

"That makes it worse," said Jack and I think he would have gone over and jabbed him if a man had not paid his check and left.

Write me all about the circumstances of their purchase. I hope they were not originally purchased in this country. Jack says they were probably made to imitate a string of real pearls whose owners did not want always to wear her real stones. He says they would be worth a fortune if they were real.

Tell me about your friend Betty Stokley's book. I'll bet you had a hand in it, you sly puss.

All the wedding presents came yesterday, including that lovely desk (that Jack's mother gave me. Forunately I had just signed the lease of the duckiest little apartment, and I had all the boxes and barrels delivered there.

Jack is very busy just now as the company has many new contracts on its books, so I am not going to let him see the apartment at all until it is all furnished and ready for us to move in.

As soon as your school is out I want you to come and make us a long visit, little sister.

Tell mother everything came splendidly and that my hand is almost well.

I will write her very soon. Lots of love, dear.

LETTER FROM LESLIE PRESCOTT TO HER MOTHER, MRS. MARY ALDEN PRESCOTT.

DEAR MRS. PRESCOTT:

I cannot tell you how much I love you and how much I love the desk is that you gave me for a wedding present.

I have made it the one thing in my living room around which I have centered everything.

Jack tells me you wrote him about my hand. Do not worry any more. It is all well now.

I hope you will find it convenient to come and see us very soon and then you will see how beautifully your exquisite desk helps to furnish our little apartment.

Cordially yours, LESLIE HAMILTON PRESCOTT.

CUBA BITTER ON U. S. ENVOY

Charges Crowder With Taking Away Nation's Liberty

CALLED AUTOCRAT OF ISLAND

Cry of "Independence or Death" Raised in Havana

(By J. W. T. MASON.)
NEW YORK (United Press.)— "Cuba Libre" is threatened with extinction by interference of the American government in Havana affairs, according to the belief of Cuban political leaders. General Crowder, American ambassador to Cuba, is declared by Cubans to be the autocrat of the island and newspaper of Havana are raising the cry of "Independence or death." A newspaper vote in Havana for the most popular Cuban as presidential candidate has left President Zayas far in the rear. There is no chance that he will have any influence at the forthcoming elections unless he can prove that he is not the messenger boy of General Crowder. President Zayas allowed General

Crowder to overthrow the Cuban cabinet last year and to dictate the names of the new cabinet members. Negotiations were then proceeding for a Cuban loan of $50,000,000 and the American banks wouldn't agree to the loan, without Crowder's approval. That fact gave Crowder his power and he used it as if he were the official Governor General of the island, native Cubans say. Now, however, the loan has gone through and the Cuban treasury has the money. President Zayas, under the influence of a new "Cuba Libre" movement, wants to get rid of the Crowder influence. Hence, a cabinet crisis has occurred at Havana, and the Cuban people demand expulsion of the members of the cabinet who are known to owe their posts to the protecting influence of General Crowder. It is even charged that these officials refused to take orders from President Zayas, their chief, but defied him, and then hid behind Crowder's back. AMERICAN INTERVENTION By the terms of the Platt Amendment to the treaty between Cuba and America, the right of American intervention for the preservation of order in Cuba has been formally recognized by the Cuban government. But the Cubans charge that this concession has been grossly misinterpreted by the American government. General Crowder is accused of acting as a moral censor in Havana. There is no present danger of disorders in Cuba. The nation is prosperous and peaceful. Nevertheless, General Crowder is compelling the Cubans to put through a series of idealistic reforms, which in many respects are far in advance of any reform program that could possibly pass the congress of the United States.

General Crowder's chief mission at Havana is to safeguard the Cuban treasury. There has been considerable looting of public money in Havana in years past. The Cubans do not claim they have any more honesty in their public service than other nations, but they assert that days of gross speculation have passed, just as the days of high backed threats by Tammany Hall in New York City's government have passed.

RULE BY FEAR. Nevertheless, General Crowder is trying to enforce military exactitude on the officials responsible for Cuba's finances and for her reform program. The Cubans do not like being forced to do things by a foreign ambassador. They assert there is absolutely no legal authority for Crowder's actions. He has been able to maintain his dictatorship only through the power of American guns in the background. The Cubans assert these guns menace them at the order of American financiers, who have sunk large sums in Cuba and who want their money guarded by American warships. The situation is extremely delicate. The other Latin-American countries are watching America's course in Cuba with the closest attention. If Cuba loses her freedom through an American military dictatorship in Havana, the effect will be profoundly felt throughout South America.

BIBLE TEACHINGS DISPUTED

Controversy Arises Over Second Century New Testament

NEW YORK — (Associated Press) — An old controversy flared up today among Biblical scholars over the assertion of Dr. E. S. Buchanan, former manuscript curator of the Hispanic Society of America, that he has discovered a second century version of the New Testament which he says furnishes no basis for belief in the day of judgment, the end of the world, baptism or hell, and assigns to woman a more superior place than previously accepted versions.

Dr. Buchanan's text was taken from Vellum manuscripts, known as the Codex Bezae Cantabrigiae, which he says were brought here after they were stolen from a Spanish monastery. His assertion that he deciphered the text after months of patient reading of underwriting which had been washed out by acid but which was indelibly impressed by a steel instrument used by the original writer is contradicted by others who say they carefully examined the manuscript.

The putative version antedates by two or three centuries the Vulgate which was a translation made by St. Jerome in the fourth century from the Hebrew text.

Dr. Buchanan first asserted his discovery in 1917 but it was immediately disputed. He said that when his version was first printed it was suppressed in this country. Dr. Buchanan is a teacher at a preparatory school for boys at Ardsley, N. Y.

PARK PLAN DANCING AT K. O. C. RECREATION BLDG.—EVERY THURS. & SAT. NIGHT AT 8:30.

SUSIE SMART'S ADVICE

Dear Miss Smart: I am a young man and I like to go with a young man and I like him very much, most of the time. But he just spoils my fun in going with him often by being jealous. If we go to a dance, he watches every move I make and I have to dance nearly every dance with him. I like to dance with him but naturally people talk if we dance together all of the time. Is there any way I can cure him of being so terribly jealous?

PERHAPS the young man is more hurt than jealous on these occasions. It may be that in your wish to avoid being made conspicuous by his attentions you have rather neglected him. It would be very rude to do that when he has been considerate enough to try to give you pleasure.

Of course, if he is unreasonably jealous, probably there is nothing you can do to cure him. In that case you doubtless will have to put up with his jealousy as the price of his friendship.

Dear Miss Smart: I am a young man, 21 years old, and have a good paying and steady position with a Lima business house. I came to this town as a stranger and as yet know no one except those working in the same office with me and a few people with whom I have acquired a speaking acquaintance in a business way. So far all of the girls I have met seem to be of the flapper type and care nothing for a young fellow except his ability to spend all his money, be a good dancer and drive a fine machine.

Now, I am quite sure that all girls are not like that but care more for one's company than his ability to show them a good time, so if there is any girl who would care more for a day's outing or some more wholesome entertainment than a dance hall, card party or tea, I would appreciate it very much to hear from you.

I have no girl's names to send you at present but if any are sent in to me, I will forward them to the address you gave me.

Dear Miss Smart: I used to go with a man and I thought I liked another one better, so I let the first one go. Now I know I was all wrong, and I'd give anything to have him back. Do you think he'd come if he knew, and how shall I go about asking him?

You can't very well ask him. You should have known your own mind at the time. You can't always dis-miss a friend, then call him back at will. About the only thing you can do about this is to be cordial and friendly in your manner when you happen to meet the man you admire. If he sees that you are glad to see him, he may come back, if he still is interested in you.

"If Your Pain Is There, What You Need Is a Good Tonic for the kidneys"

The kidneys are the scavengers and they work day and night in separating and the poisons from the blood. Their signals of distress are easily recognized and include such symptoms as lumbago, backache, depression, drowsiness, irritability, headaches, dizziness, rheumatic twinges, dropsy. The very best way to restore the kidneys to their normal state is to drink plenty of pure water and obtain a small amount of Anuric (anti-uric-acid), which is dispensed by almost every druggist. Anuric is inexpensive and should be taken before meals. It is much more potent than lithia. The poisons are dissolved and eliminated almost as sugar in water.

People are realizing more and more every day that the kidneys, just as do the bowels need to be flushed occasionally. The kidneys are an eliminative organ and are constantly working, separating the poisons from the blood. Under this continual and perpetual action they are apt to congest, and then trouble starts. Uric acid backs up into the system, causing rheumatism, neuralgia dropsy and many other serious disturbances. It means that you are a victim to uric acid poisoning. Then ask your druggist for Anuric and you will very soon become one of hundreds who have been helped by this powerful enemy to uric acid.

Pottsdam, Ohio—"I suffered for years with backache. Finally I tried Dr. Pierce's Anuric and it was wonderful the way it eased the pain and gave me relief in such a short time. I have tried several medicines but Anuric is the only one that gave satisfaction. I feel it my duty to recommend it."—Mrs. Margaret E. Snyder, Box 111.

Dr. Pierce manufactures Anuric and you can obtain a trial pkg. by enclosing 10c and addressing Dr. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y. adv.

6 PRISONERS ARE SHOT BY GUARDS

Wholesale Escape Attempted at St. Louis Workhouse

MANY SEVERELY BEATEN

15 Convicts Pass Thru Opening When Bars are Sawed

ST. LOUIS — (Associated Press) Six prisoners were shot and several others severely beaten when guards frustrated a wholesale escape at the city workhouse here early today.

About fifteen prisoners sawed thru the bars in the cell room and let themselves into the prison yard by means of a rope, according to the guards, who said one of the prisoners with a cleverly made pistol carved out of wood, attempted to hold up Fred Giese, 50-year-old guard, and obtain his keys.

OPENS FIRE

Instead of complying with the demand of the prisoner, Giese opened fire and two of the group of prisoners fell. The shots attracted five other guards who sent volleys into the crowd of prisoners, wounding four more.

A police riot call was sounded, but by the time the officers arrived the guards had subdued the prisoners.

All of the wounded men were shot in the legs. They were taken to the city hospital, where it was said their condition was not serious.

The other prisoners of the group which attempted to escape later were found hiding in the yard and sent back to their cells. A check-up accounted for all prisoners.

LIMA FIRM LOW BIDDER ON STEEL CABINETS FOR COUNTY AUDITOR'S OFFICE

A bid for $3,648 submitted by the Emerson-Price company was the lowest price quoted the county commissioners for furnishing material and labor on steel cabinets, counters, cases and ladders for the county auditor's office.

The General Fire Proofing company, of Youngstown, was the only other firm bidding. Their price was $4,168.

County commissioners have not awarded the contract, Glen Wallace, clerk, said, but will do so within a few days.

The new steel cases and cabinets are to replace the old cases now in use and provide storage room for the ever increasing amount of office records and books.

Plans for enlarging Auditor Philip's office by incorporating part of the south corridor, and cutting an archway thru the north wall of the present office are under consideration.

Storage room for records and supplies used by the auditor will be provided in the basement.

WIFE AND 'OTHER WOMAN' FRIENDS

Met by Accident, Both Desert Chicago Man

NEITHER WANTS PUNISHMENT

Take Care of Each Other During Illness

(BY KAY GIBBONS)
CHICAGO—Here's one of the stories featuring "the other woman" hat's all mixed up and not according to real life.
Because it's taken from real life, the plot has been hatted out in reverse order.
Mrs. Rose Vanderloan, as the wife, is quite fond of the woman to whom her errand husband paid court. In fact she's so fond of her that both women live together.
Neither wants the husband of one and the sweetheart of the other, punished for his alleged philandering, which now have him lodged in jail on a technical charge until the judge can piece the strange domestic puzzle together.
Vanderloan married Rose five years ago and is the father of her baby, Betty.
SEEKS ADVENTURE
Several months ago he left his family in St. Paul and started forth for adventure and work at his trade of locomotive engineering.
On the way south he met Elina, to whom he had told nothing about his wife.
The two got to be quite chummy and were getting along nicely until one day, when dining, they ran into Mrs. Vanderloan, who had come to Chicago and was working as a waitress.

"You're a nice one," said the wife to her husband after she had taken the couple's order for ham and eggs. Where have you been all this time? I suppose you know I've started suit for divorce?"
"Against whom?" spoke up Elina, who began to get interested.
"Him," said Rose, pointing to her spouse.
Elina laughed. And Vanderloan, in the not that ensued, took to his heels.
The sudden shock proved quite an ordeal to the "other woman." She remained ill for quite a time. Rose the wife, on her back to health.

CARES FOR BABY
Then Rose's baby Betty, took ill, and Elina took care of the child. Meanwhile real life and not real life had been moving the plot along. The wife was not running around with a gun. The other woman, Elina, was not wearing swank clothes or pulling her own or anybody else's hair.
Then, just as the censors were about to yell out with both women moving out of the scene to a place of retreat which they paused to share together and bar all men, who should move into the camera for a closeup but Vanderloan himself.

That's how the police came to get him. He's in jail now and both women want to get him out.
"I could never marry him, now that I've met his wife," says Elina. "Why she's my best friend and I love her baby so."
"And I don't want him punished either," says his wife.
Vanderloan will know his fate next month.

WIFE IS DROWNED BY HUSBAND

Confession Made to Police by Connecticut Man

WOMAN HELD UNDER WATER

Crime Described in Statement Given by Prisoner

NEW BRITAIN, Conn., (Associated Press) — Having confessed that he sat on his wife in a shallow pond so that she was drowned, John A. Carlson, a plumbing contractor, was held without bonds today.

He said he deliberately drove his automobile over an embankment. The machine overturned and both were thrown into the pond. Then Carlson placed a cushion on his wife's head and chest and sat on it, holding her beneath the surface.

He sat there until her struggles ceased, according to his statement, and then went to the highway and obtained assistance. He rode to a hospital in an ambulance with his wife's body and told officers that the accident occurred when his wife lost control of the car.

Carlson and his wife were married 21 years ago. Two sons, aged 13 and 15 live in this city. Carlson, gave his age as 44.

The drowning occurred a month ago. The police said Carlson confessed last night when confronted with evidence they had obtained. He being jeopardized as the investigation continued, Governor Hardwick was asked to send the state militia to Clara, Wis., to stand guard when Walter Higginbotham, "whipping boss," goes to trial for the alleged flogging to death of the North Dakota boy.

Representative Kenney, of the joint legislative committee, reporting on the effort to exhumate Tabert's body asserted that armed men had intimidated Arthur Johnson, a negro, to such an extent he was afraid to reveal the spot where he claims he helped bury the boy in a water-soaked grave.

Examination of a body, believed to be Tabert's contained in a casket unearthed in the Mingo cemetery near Clara, was postponed, pending arrival of dental charts and other identification papers from North Dakota.

HOW TO REDUCE VARICOSE VEINS

Rub Gently and Upward Toward the Heart as Blood in Veins Flows That Way.

Many people have become despondent because they have been led to believe that there is no remedy that will reduce swollen veins and bunches.

If you will get a two-ounce original bottle of Moore's Emerald Oil (full strength) at any first class drug store and apply it night and morning as directed you will quickly notice an improvement which will continue until the veins and bunches are reduced to normal.

Moore's Emerald Oil is extensively used in hospitals and in fact is as first-aid to the injured. It is a harmless, yet most powerful germicide and two ounces lasts a very long time.

Indeed, so powerful is Emerald Oil that soft bunches, galls, swollen glands and veins are reduced. It is one of the wonderful discoveries of recent years and anyone who is disappointed with its use can have their money refunded. Your druggist can supply you—Ady.

Mr. Harry C. Bachman, 4736 Main Avenue, Newark, Ohio, writes: "I had skin eruptions—pimples and blackheads. I took S.S.S. and was happily surprised at the results. I got in less than three weeks' time."

WHISPERING SAGE

By Harry Sinclair Drago and Joseph Noel—Copyright, 1928

MEET HERE TODAY

Dick Acklin, big boss of the Double A ranch in Paradise Valley, and Buck Bodine, new owner of the old Webster place, rob the Basques of their water supply. Acklin secretly builds a dam and cuts off water from Bodine's ranch. To revenge himself upon Acklin, Bodine plots with the Basques to blow up the dam. Blaze Kildare, one of Acklin's men, is in love with a beautiful Basque girl, Mercedes Arrascaeta.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

This last statement carried weight with Basilio. By the time Blaze had turned My Man into the patio gate, the child had recovered his smile.

Mercedes had been aware of Kildare's advent for five minutes or more before Blaze dismounted. A warm glow of happiness enveloped her as she saw him approach. Grief, and the brooding misery of weeks, left her immediately. Yet she held back and trembled at the thought of meeting him. Nervous fingers performed miracles with her beautiful hair. Maidenly modesty made her lower her eyes, but a flash of the carefree tomboy came back to her as she darted a quick glance into her mirror. There was color in her cheeks for the first time in many days; a sparkle in her eyes.

Blaze, with Basilio in his arms, reached the veranda as she came out. Language is useless to convey what they read in each other's eyes. Hat in hand, he stood before her silent. A word would have broken the spell the morning cast over them.

Basilio's demand to be let down brought back to Blaze a realization of why he was there. He began to say something, but as Mercedes put out her hand and his fingers closed over it he became speechless again. "Oh, Senor, you do not know what you do when you come here like this."

Blaze nodded his head ever so slightly. The risk was worth it. "Men like Otero or Iguazu will kill you on sight."

A sudden impulse made Blaze lean toward her. "I wonder if you'd care very much if they did get me?"

He had won from her the confidence a woman usually gives only to one man, but true to her sex, the thought of being forced into the open filled her with alarm. And because in such matters women are so much more the masters of themselves than men, she answered Blaze with a tantalizing laugh that carried him back to that day up the river, when she had awakened emotions long dead in him.

To atone for the confusion she caused him, she added:

"Of course I would care. You have been kind to me. I told you once I would speak true words to you. But why do you come?"

"I've been into town—Winnemucca; some things I had to look after for myself. I kept clear of the valley, but when I looked down from those hills below the river and saw how near I was to the hacienda, I had to risk coming. I wanted to talk with Esteban. Basilio tells me he has gone to King's River."

"As far as that?" A note of anxiety crept into her voice. "He left without telling me where he was going."

"He wouldn't take me," the little fellow chirped up. "He said it was too dangerous." Both Mercedes and Blaze asked the question.

Basilio repeated his words. The same thought flashed into the minds of both.

If any danger was attached to Esteban's trip, it could only be because he was taking a short cut across the Double A country by way of the buttes.

"He ought to know better than to try that," Blaze said with a shade of annoyance at the boy's foolhardiness. "Did he have a good horse?"

"He took the buckboard and a team."

"Why, you can't get through there with a rig. I've been over every foot of that country." He pointed to the child, and tapped his lips with his finger as he went on. "He's going around by the crossing, all right. There's three or four hundred Indians from the reservation over on the Kings right now, helping with the haying. I guess Esteban was afraid of them."

Mercedes tried to reward him with a smile, but her misgivings were only aroused the more by what Blaze had said. Basilio did not take kindly to his words either.

"Injun?" he cried sarcastically. "I'm not afraid of Injuns. Teresa is an Injun. Wis! I had a horse of my own."

Having relieved himself of this weighty statement, the little chap wandered back to the barn. When he was out of hearing, Mercedes appealed to Kildare.

"What can I do?" she asked. "That is not Esteban's habit to go away these days without telling me where he is going. He is not himself any longer. The fire, and all these other things—"

"I understand," Blaze responded. "Will you take my word for this? The Double A has had no hand in these reprisals."

Mercedes's eyebrows lifted at this seeming heresy.

"I saw Lotard's sheep killed." "You saw it, and did nothing?" "There was nothing I could do."

Blaze answered her. "I was in the buttes opposite his cabin, but it takes hours to come down and get up to his place. As far as the fire goes, I know there wasn't a Doubt a man in the valley that time of night."

"What you say is hard to believe," she murmured at last. "But I do believe you." She trustingly raised her eyes to his. "I am not to be blamed if I seem hard to convince. Senor Acklin has crushed the heart of my people with his scheming. His dam," she cried scornfully. "It is a monument to his thieving. He is big and strong, and he makes war on the weak and helpless. You know what I say is true."

Blaze chose neither to deny nor affirm her statement. "At least," he said instead, "the dam was a blow to Bodine's plans. It sure sat him down with a dull thud. But he isn't through yet. You tell Esteban what I've said; but see that he keeps mum about it. If I were him, I'd stick to Kent. He's got vision enough to see this thing through. Anyway, I may get in touch with Esteban soon."

"Don't risk coming again, Senor," she begged, her quick concern for his safety immediately over-shadowing all thought of her own misery. "It is too dangerous. Even now some one may come at any moment. I know it is best you go."

Blaze saw her lips tremble. The urge to take her in his arms was great. "You'll go around by the river, won't you—please?" she implored further. "Don't go through the valley."

Kildare turned and held out his hand to My Man; otherwise he would have been unable to stop the words that were on his tongue. He vaulted into his saddle lightly; Mercedes' eyes followed him.

"You know," she began, more at ease from the safety of his position, "I said once that I was going to see this thing through. Did you ever see that before?" He held out the charm Melody had found.

No trace of recognition showed in Mercedes' eyes. "The man who owned that," Blaze went on, "murdered your father."

"You mean," she gasped, "that you know who did it?"

Mercedes bowed her head, her hand against her cheek. Blaze knew the moment that was flooding her mind. His voice grew husky as he went on: "I told you the morning we found your father's body that I would stop at nothing in your service. I haven't forgotten. You wonder, I know, why I stay with Acklin. He's as hard and unrelenting as a steel trap; a thug, a villain, a scoundrel. But when the big cattle-men were all like him. He's got an evil name—well earned no doubt—and with good reason, in that I am in his employ, you find it hard not to suspect me at times. Yet in spite of that I have tried to be a real friend to you. Men have called this valley a desert. But it blooms once. The fields were green; flowers fought for your favor here in this patio. Little things sometimes are able to win great good from most hopeless clay. If you ever have cause to think of me, remember that. You know nothing of my past, and my talk tells you little; but I'll be keeping my word with you. Goodbye!"

They shook hands. Blaze saw her eyes were misty. My Man had reached the gate when he turned for a last look at her. She was leaning against a pillar of the veranda. He saw her lips tremble. Sweet and low, her words reached him.

"Goodbye," he said. Minutes passed as she stood there. Kildare was long out of sight before she sank into a chair, her eyes straining at the distance that lay beyond the Rebel, her ears dulled to ordinary sound. She knew Kildare must be safe in the lower Santa Rosa hills by now. The thought of her father hovered in her mind. She wondered why she found Blaze so much like him.

Suddenly there burst upon her consciousness the mad gallop of a horse. Esteban was coming back! She felt relieved. She became alert. Her sense on edge again. The pattering hoofs sounded very near; they seemed to be on the porch itself. Rising, she hurried round the corner of the veranda and came upon Basilio beating out a barbaric rhythm on an abandoned flower-tub in lieu of drums. He had possessed himself of part of the lid of a box; and, despite sharp nails, the little tot held the sticks in a vise-like grasp.

"Where did you get these things?" Mercedes demanded as she stooped down to take them away.

"In the barn. Don't take them away," Basilio pleaded with nails. "Feel!"

As she held out one of the sticks to him, she saw some strange, meaningless marks on it. Curiosity prompted her to put the two pieces together. Her heart stopped as she read the words they made: "Dynamite—Dangerous!"

Quilna Flashes "Racing Hearts" With Agnes Ayres

FOR those who like an automobile racing story jammed with thrills "Racing Hearts," the Paramount production appearing over the week end at the Quilna theatre will prove splendid entertainment.

The story, hops into high speed and stays there until the last scene. Theodore Roberts as Agnes Ayres' father owns an automobile plant. He does not believe in advertising and consequently his business, in the face of severe and crooked competition, suffers materially. He is called to Europe and during his absence his daughter builds a racing car. By a twist of fate she drives against her sweetheart. The race makes a climax of excitement and suspense which does not end until Agnes goes across the line a winner.

Exceptional Film to be Presented at Faurot

"HUNTING Big Game in Africa," which comes to the Faurot on Sunday, was made on a two year expedition into the Dark Continent, led by H. A. Snow and his son Sidney, who went out for the Museum of Natural History of Oakland, Cal. It seems safe to say that it is one of the most complete, which means the most instructive and the most thrilling, motion picture of wild animal life ever made. Paul Rainey, the cinematographer, M. Stanley of Africa, did it first, and did it well. His pictures are still remembered, and it was a generous recognition of Rainey's work for Mr. Snow to have him mentioned in a subtitle.

"Hunting Big Game in Africa" appears to be about the last word, at least so far as animal life on the continent is concerned.

It is, in the first place, composed of remarkably good pictures. By perseverance, skill and the use of the latest photographic equipment, including a telescopic lens and a portable developing outfit, Sidney Snow, who was the cameraman of the expedition, obtained close-ups as well as clear distant views of every kind of African animal the average man has heard of. The beautiful, the ugly, the swift, the ungainly—they are all there, singly and in herds, at water holes and darting across the plain during the night in the jungle undergrowth. And much of the photography is excellent by any standard. All of it is exceedingly good considering the conditions under which the camera was used.

But the film is more than just an interesting collection of animal pictures. It is as thrilling in places as anything shown here for a long time.

Furthermore the film is one of the most intelligently edited pictures ever shown. The subtitles are light enough to be entertaining and at the same time informative.

They never throw away valuable information for a joke. But, on the other hand, they do not tell the whole story, and so make the pictures more interesting. They explain the pictures only where explanations are necessary.

Keith Vaudeville Offered at the Faurot

THEATRE-GOERS are offered a splendid bill of Keith vaudeville at the Faurot Opera House this week-end, the same bill remaining in effect over Sunday.

Mindell Kingston and George Ebner, a vaudeville duo of considerable prominence, have the opening act which they call "This and That." Mindell's hand instruments and horns by Ebner are exceptionally well done and Miss Kingston possesses a pleasing voice. Dancing also enters into the offering.

In a repertoire of violin selections varying from classical to the latest song numbers, Harry Hippi proves himself a genius and delightful patron at Thursday's performance. He has a pleasing personality and dispenses comedy in a superior way.

Quilna to Flash "Trailing African Wild Animals" Sunday

TRAILING African Wild Animals," Martin Johnson's feature, which is said to be the first motion picture of wild animal life ever produced by the American Museum of Natural History, will be the attraction at the Quilna theatre beginning Sunday.

For over two years Mr. and Mrs. Johnson, accompanied by a band of natives, toured the interior of British East Africa, making a photographic record of big game. Authorities declare the finished film is not only instructively entertaining, but at the same time a historical record worthy of being reserved for posterity. A print of the film has been turned over to the American Museum. The picture is said to contain one third as many scenes as the most "brutalizing" being the charge of an elephant herd directly at the camera, both Johnson and his wife standing their ground and dropping the leaders when within a short distance of the camera.

"The Three Romeos" Is Allen's Final Attraction

"THE Three Romeos" is the title of the musical comedy which the Billy Allen musical company is offering as their final attraction of a two week's successful engagement at the New Orpheum theatre. The plot is exceptionally humorous and gives Allen an opportunity to display his dramatic ability. He is seen as the bell-hop in a fashionable hotel and things begin to happen when he is mistaken for the King of Kokomo. From this point until the end of the story, Allen dispenses an abundance of comedy and together with the pleasing chorus and numerous novelty features, "The Three Romeos" proves one of the best offerings in their repertoire of musical comedies to be presented here.

On Saturday matinee only, Allen will give a special performance of "Cinderella," for children and adults too. It is one of Allen's many delightful features that will prove as entertaining as advance reports state it to be.

Manager Shaw announces a return engagement for one week only, starting Sunday of Drake and Walker's Bombay Girls who scored such a decided hit here several weeks ago. They will offer two shows, making a complete change of production, costumes and scenery on Thursday.

Lupino Lane Stars In New Fox Comedy

THAT comedy speedster, Lupino Lane, idol of two continents, comes to the Sigma Theatre soon on his newest William Fox comedy special, "A Friendly Husband." This is Lane's initial five-reeler, and he makes his bow with a rush of new ideas and dashing action.

The funniest scenes with the hottest day in the year, but the heat only serves to redouble Lane's efforts to get away from it. In his hurry, the fun commences and crescendos to a smashing burlesque on that erstwhile serious form of the drama known as melodrama. Single-handed, the serious eyed little comedian roams and captures a ferocious and desperate band of bandits.

His methods are so fast in their execution that when he finally hands

Novel humor bits pepper "A Friendly Husband," and provoke

SENATOR WILLIS FOR COURT

3 to 1. If a bill did get into the senate, it would lose by 4 to 1. "FOOLISH AND INDEFENSIBLE"

"The most foolish thing in the world we could do just now would be to open the gates to immigrants. It is indefensible to have protective tariff on goods and free trade in labor."

"We have been besieged by representatives of the Gary school of thought which insists that there is a labor shortage. They claim they want only selected immigrants, but when they get down to rock bottom their exceptions and exemptions would permit almost anybody to come into the country."

"Two years ago the president found it necessary to call a labor conference in order to relieve a desperate situation. At that time Secretary of Labor Davis said five million men were out of work, and Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, said that figure was too low."

"The boom we are happy in now has absorbed some of this labor, but it is not continuing."

"The maintenance of the character of our American citizenship is much more important than providing cheap labor for a few factories. I am therefore opposed to any change in immigration legislation which would let down the bars."

"I would, however, favor some changes in the application of the present quota system. I would like to see prospective immigrants examined before they leave their home countries. I would like to see all aliens in the United States registered so that we would know what progress they were making in becoming Americanized. I would like to see a fee collected from immigrants which should be used to establish funds in the various states for the education and Americanization of aliens."

"This country is doomed if it is made up of little Europes and little Asias and Chinatowns."

Willis left at 11:05 a. m. for Cincinnati.

PONY POLO TO BE INTRODUCED AS SPORT IN LIMA

Guardsmen To Play Game

BY RICHARD A. THORNBURGH
Lima sport fans will have a new diversion in a short time. The latest innovation to be introduced into this city is pony polo, one of the most spectacular and exciting games played on either side of the world.

Capt. Neil Poling, local attorney and head of Battery D, 135th Field Artillery, Ohio National Guard acting on orders from regimental headquarters, will ask for polo equipment to outfit two teams in the local battery within the next few days.

OWN HORSES

The men will use their own horses for the present time. Capt. Poling told the News Friday, but the equipment will be issued in a similar manner as uniforms, and regular arm equipment, from the federal government.

Two teams will be formed within the local battery, according to plans, and then at Camp Knox this summer, a league will be formed including teams from the Ohio brigade. This camp starts in July and is the regular three weeks' annual encampment.

LEARN RIDING

According to present plans of the government mounted troops will be furnished with pony polo equipment in order that they may become familiar with horsemanship riding. At polo it is essential that a man become an expert horseman in order to properly play the game.

Pony polo is one of the popular sports both on the east and west coasts but has never gained much headway in the middle west, probably because of the ability it takes to play and because of the popularity of other sports in which all classes of people can take part.

START SOON
The polo equipment should arrive within a few weeks and by that time local officials will have worked out in detail their plans for playing the game here.

It may be possible to play practice games at the Allen-Craig grounds or some other place where a large field is available.

GIRL WRITER SPRINTS WITH CHAMP PADDOCK

BY JOSEPHINE VAN DE GRIFT
NEW YORK — "Speed" said Charlie Daddock, fastest runner in the world, "is something you've got to be born to."

Apparently I hadn't been born to it, for I was puffing fearfully as I tagged along behind trying to interview him in action. It was in Central Park, where Charlie was taking a run preparatory to sailing for France where he will compete in the University of Paris games.

A running interview is the hardest thing I have tackled yet. He had on one of those abbreviated athletic suits. I was more heavily encumbered. I shot a question at his back:

"Don't you think I might have more speed if I cut out potatoes?"

Charlie hopped over a lilac bush instead of running around it.

"There's a lot more than that anybody imagines," he said, settling down into a comfortable (for him) lunge. "Remember Kelly, the Olympic champion?"

I didn't, but I said I did.

"Well, Kelly and I one day were trying to jump from the sidewalk up a flight of steps about five feet high. We couldn't make the top step. All at once we saw Doug Fairbanks watching us. That was incentive and we both made the jump.

"What's that got to do with speed?" I panted.

"Oh, speed," he said, running in a circle till I caught up again. "You mean running—or people?"

"Clothes?" I said, massaging a stitch in my side.

"Well, some women are pretty speedy in clothes," he said. But it's a woman's duty to make herself beautiful."

"Why? I gurgled.

"Because nature teaches it," he replied, as we dashed past the zoo. "Just look in there—the female's always the more beautiful!"

Charlie didn't slacken up enough to give me a chance to look.

"Smoking's bad," he said, changing his pace and subject, "especially for women. Too speedy, you know."

"Say, how old are you?" I demanded, between gasps of breath.

"Well, I've been running for 10 years," was the only answer he'd sprout. Good-bye.

I felt as if I'd been running twice as long, so I sat down to rest, watching him shoot away thru the scenery.

Kinks o' the Links

A player is on the putting green about six feet from the cup. A slight shower has fallen and the grass is a trifle wet. When it is the player's turn to putt, he first addresses the ball and after a wait of a few seconds looks over the lay of the green. Then as he reaches the cup, either accidentally or intentionally, he drags the face of his putter along the ground where his ball is so that he makes a direct line in the wet grass from the ball to the cup. Has the player overstepped his rights in so doing?

The rules specifically state that the line of putt must not be touched, except by placing the club immediately in front of the ball in the manner of addressing it. This is a common habit of a great many players prior to making their putt and is permissible. The player certainly overstepped his rights in marking the line of putt and can be penalized by the loss of the hole.

A player's ball while not in casual water, is lying so near to it that it seriously interferes with the player's stance. Must the ball itself be in casual water to be lifted and dropped without penalty, or does the rule apply in the same manner if the casual water interferes with the player's stance?

If the water interferes with the stance of the player the ball may be lifted and dropped without penalty.

WIN HANDBALL MATCHES

R. T. Veal and Victor Bird were eliminated from the Y. M. C. A. handball tournament Thursday evening.

Dr. Gay Bayler defeated Veal, 21 to 15 and 21 to 5. L. C. Brown won his match from Bird, 21 to 15 and 21 to 20.

Brown is picked by followers of the sport to play in the finals and possibly win the tournament which will probably be concluded next week.

HORNSBY CALLS HIS RECORD OF HOMERS "LUCKY"

Rogers Hornsby, one of the great hitters the game has ever produced, thinks the Cardinals have a fine chance to win the pennant.

"The club that beats us out will win it," is the way Rogers answered Billy Evans' query on that subject.

He had a very interesting chat with one of the outstanding stars of the majors. The modesty of Hornsby in all things is becoming, but as a player, "Must have made you feel pretty good to take down the home-run record for 1922 and destroy the Babe?" he was asked.

"I was pretty lucky. You must be lucky to do big things in baseball. Never had any idea of a home-run record when I started. I just swung at the old ball in my natural way. Either I am getting stronger or the balls livelier, because they sure went farther last year than ever before."

RECKLESS TO RULE
While one of the greatest stars in the game, Hornsby doesn't let it affect his play or temperament. While he was discussing the likely results the Cardinals had picked one of them at the bat forgot about looking toward the bench for possible shift in plays on the part of Rickey. It was oversight rather than disobedience. I wondered how Hornsby would act.

When he stepped to the plate I

ROSE PLAYING COLUMBUS GROVE

St. Rose high school's baseball team, after a week of strenuous practice, is ready to meet Columbus Grove on their own grounds Saturday afternoon.

The Rosemen vow to win from the Putnam-Cro lads and avenge a 7 to 6 beating given them last Saturday at Murphy-St. park. Several new faces will appear in the local line-up. Lyons, candidate for the pitching berth, has been showing up good in the practices of the past week. While it is more than probable that "Pablo" MacNamara, whom the Grovians sent to the showers last week when they garnered seven bingles in one inning, will start on the mound, Lyons will be given a chance.

Carrie, outfielder, has been shifted to the infield while Daley, acting captain, will shift to the center garden. Duffey will work first and W. MacNamara will do outfield duty. Wells will work at shortstop and Mahlfester will cover the hot corner. Powers will start on the receiving end.

There will also be a change in the Saints batting order. It is expected that over a hundred students will accompany the Lima squad to Columbus Grove.

PONY POLO TO BE INTRODUCED AS SPORT IN LIMA

Guardsmen To Play Game

BY RICHARD A. THORNBURGH

Lima sport fans will have a new diversion in a short time. The latest innovation to be introduced into this city is pony polo, one of the most spectacular and exciting games played on either side of the world.

Capt. Neil Polling, local attorney and head of Battery D, 135th Field Artillery, Ohio National Guard, getting on orders from regimental headquarters, will ask for polo equipment to outfit two teams in the local battery within the next few days.

OWN HORSES

The men will use their own horses for the present time. Capt. Polling told the News Friday, but the equipment will be issued in a similar manner as uniforms, and regular army equipment, from the federal government.

Two teams will be formed within the local battery, according to plans, and then at Camp Knox this summer, a league will be formed, including teams from the Ohio brigade. This camp starts in July and is the regular three weeks' annual encampment.

LEARN RIDING

According to present plans of the government, all mounted troops will be furnished with pony polo equipment in order that they may become familiar with horsemanship. It is polo that is essential to a man become an expert horseman in order to properly play the game.

Pony polo is one of the popular sports both on the east and west coasts but has not gained much headway in the middle west, probably because of the difficulty it takes to play and because of the popularity of other sports in which all classes of people can take part.

START SOON

The polo equipment should arrive within a few weeks and by that time local officials will have worked out in detail their plans for playing the game here.

It may be possible to play practice games at the Allen-Coe Park grounds or some other place where a large field is available.

GIRL WRITER SPRINTS WITH CHAMP PADDOCK

BY JOSEPHINE VAN DE GRIFT

NEW YORK — "Speed" said Charlie Paddock, fastest runner in the world, "is something you've got to be born to."

Apparently I hadn't been born to it, for I was puffing fearfully as I tagged along behind trying to interview him in action. It was in Central Park, where Charlie was taking a run preparatory to sailing for France where he will compete in the University of Paris games.

A running interview is the hardest thing I have tackled yet. He had on one of those abbreviated athletic suits. I was more heavily encumbered. I shot a question at his back:

"Don't you think I might have more speed if I cut out potatoes?"

Charlie laughed over a blue bush instead of running around it.

"There's a lot more than that anybody imagines," he said, settling down into a comfortable (for him) lunge. "Remember Kelly, the Olympic champion?"

I didn't, but I said I did.

"Well, Kelly and I one day were trying to jump from the sidewalk up a flight of steps about five feet high. We couldn't make the top step. All at once we saw Doug Fairbanks watching us. That was incentive—and we both made the jump."

CLOSE-UP OF CHARLIE PADDOCK AND (RIGHT) PADDOCK IN ACTION ON THE LINDER PATH.

"What's that got to do with speed?" I panted.

"Oh, speed," he said, running in a circle till I caught up again. "You mean running—or people?"

"Clothes?" I said, massaging a stitch in my side.

"Well, some women are pretty speedy in clothes," he said. But it's a woman's duty to make herself beautiful."

"Why? I gurgled.

"Because nature teaches it," he replied, as we dashed past the zoo. "Just look in there—the female's always the more beautiful!"

Charlie didn't slacken up enough to give me a chance to look.

"Smoking's bad," he said, changing his pace and subject, "especially for women. Too speedy, you know."

"Say, how old are you?" I demanded. Between gusty breaths.

"Well, I've been running for 10 years," was the only answer he'd sprint. Good-bye.

I felt as if I'd been running twice as long. So I sat down to rest, watching him shoot away thru the scenery.

WIN HANDBALL MATCHES

R. T. Veal and Victor Bird were eliminated from the Y. M. C. A. handball tournament Thursday evening.

Dr. Gay Hapley defeated Veal, 21 to 15 and 21 to 5. L. C. Brown won his match from Bird, 21 to 15 and 21 to 20.

Brown is picked by followers of the sport to play in the finals and possibly win the tournament which will probably be concluded next week.

CHICAGO — Chicago was shutout, 3 to 0, by Cleveland here Thursday when Coseleskie hurled air-tight ball.

Three hits bunched with a base on balls in the first inning gave the visitor a two-run lead.

HORNSBY CALLS HIS RECORD OF HOMERS "LUCKY"

Rogers Hornsby, one of the greatest hitters the game has ever produced, thinks the Cardinals have a fine chance to win the pennant.

"The club that beats us out will win it," is the way Rogers answered Billy Evans' query on this subject.

He had a very interesting chat with one of the outstanding stars of the majors. The modesty of Hornsby in all things is becoming his greatest asset as a player. "Must have made you feel pretty good to take down the home-run record for 1922 and dethrone the Babe?" he was asked.

"I was pretty lucky. You must be lucky to do big things in baseball. Never had any idea of a home-run record when I started. I just swung at the ball in my natural way. Either I am getting stronger or the balls are better, because they sure went further last year than ever before."

While one of the greatest stars in the game, Hornsby doesn't let it affect his play or temperament. While he was discussing the likely results the Cardinals had picked up, one of them at the bat forgot about looking toward the beach for possible shift in plays on the part of Rube.

It was oversight rather than disobedience. I wondered how Hornsby would react.

ROSE PLAYING COLUMBUS GROVE

St. Rose high school's baseball team, after a week of strenuous practice, is ready to meet Columbus Grove on their own grounds Saturday afternoon.

The Rosemen vow to win from the Putnamco lads and average a 7 to 6 beating given them last Saturday at Murphy's park. Several new faces will appear in the local line-up. Lyons, candidate for the pitching berth, has been showing up in the practice of the past week. While it is more than probable that "Pinto" MacNamara, whom the Grovians sent to the showers last week when they garnered seven bingles in one inning, will start on the mound, Lyons will be given a chance.

Curry, outfielder, has been shifted to the infield while Daley, acting captain, will shift to the center garden. Duffey will work first and W. MacNamara will do outfield duty. Wells will work at shortstop and Mahanville will cover the hot corner. Powers will start on the receiving end.

There will also be a change in the St. Louis batting order. It is expected that over a hundred students will accompany the Lima squad to Columbus Grove.

BOTKINS MAN PLACES IN STATE'S GRID TOURNEY

COLUMBUS — H. W. Wendler, of Fremont, a halfback on last fall's freshman football team won the annual spring football tournament at Ohio State University with a total of 137.2 points out of a possible 150. M. A. Clark of Gettysburg was second.

H. B. Cunningham of Mt. Vernon won the forward passing event with an average toss of 57 yards each time he threw the pigskin.

Other men in the first ten to finish were:

C. M. Zanglela Botkins, 128.7; L. R. Waller, Canton, 127.7; H. R. Carlson, Cleveland, 125.8; F. J. Manchester, Perry 125.3; J. F. Howell, Columbus 123.9; J. H. Nichols, LaGrange, 123.5; L. W. Hendershot, Columbus 120.1; and H. J. Bruck, Columbus 119.7.

Foss Zeitman reports a friend went to the cellar to see how the rest of the gin he had in a distilled water bottle was doing. He found it was gone. "My son," he reports, "thought it was distilled water and used it to fill an automobile battery."

An Ottawa man reports his car ran into a water fountain in front of the postoffice. "That's nothing," he says. "Last summer it started up of its own accord and ran into a swimming pool."

Ellis Jones, driving home late, ran out of gasoline two blocks from a filling station. He succeeded, after great effort, in pushing the car the two blocks.

"Then," he reports, "I found the station was closed."

Harry Hildreth found an acquaintance trying to fix his stalled automobile on a country road miles from Lima.

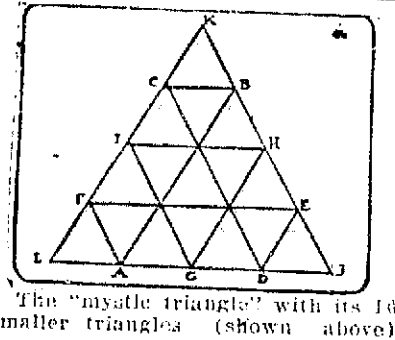

Whatever induced you to buy a car like that? asked Hildreth. "If you want to know," said the other, "it was the effect of smart salesmanship on an empty head."

Harriet Quandt, 230 S. West-st. writes the following: "My sister and her husband were down town shopping one day and wanted to purchase some articles in a store where a fire was being held. The crowd was lined out to the sidewalk and policemen were standing around to keep order. Finally my sister spied an opening in the crowd and turned to her husband, said, 'Perhaps we can squeeze in here, dear.' A bobby overhearing, replied, 'Oh, no you can't lady, that's what the parks are for.'"
